SOLDIERS TO STAND TRIAL

Judge Acheson Refuses Petition of Lieut. Drury and Private Dowd.

CAUSES A SENSATION

District Attorney Young to Take Case to the U. S. Supreme Court at Once.

ACCUSED ARE OUT ON BAIL

Lieut. Ralph W. Drury and Private John Dowd of the United States army were remanded to the custody of the warden of the Allegheny county jail by a decision of Judge Marcus W. Acheson yesterday, which, if sustained, will fix the status of military and civil rights in the states in time of peace. The decision is regarded with as much importance as the Dred Scott decision of ante-bellum days, and some of the greatest legal lights of the country will probably have a hand in the case before it is finally decided by the highest tribunal in the land.

Judge Acheson discharged the writ of habeas corpus, applied for in the case, in an opinion which, considering the importance of the matters involved, was considered brief. Immediately after the decision was handed down United States District Attorney James S. Young announced that he would take an appeal to the United States supreme court at once.

Lieut. Drury Surprised.

Lieut. Drury and Private Dowd were held by the county authorities for the shooting of William H. Crowley, who was alleged to have stolen copper from the roofs of the United States arsenal. They were indicted and held for trial in the county courts. A writ of habeas corpus was applied for, it being alleged the case was not within the jurisdiction of the state courts. District Attorney Haymaker and John Marron appeared for the commonwealth and District Attorney James S. Young for the government and the prisoners. The case is regarded as an important test and the decision in favor of the commonwealth is a great surprise in military circles and among government officials. Two indictments were found against Drury and Dowd, one charging murder and the other manslaughter. Both had been acquitted after trial by court-martial.

Lieut. Drury was surprised at the view the United States federal court took of his case. When the decision was heard at the arsenal Lieut. Drury and Capt. P. C. Harris of the Ninth infantry discussed the situation. Lieut. Drury immediately telephoned United States District Attorney James S. Young, with reference to the case, to learn if it would be necessary to appear before the Allegheny county court to have the bail renewed. District Attorney Young told Lieut. Drury that it would not be necessary, as he intended carrying the case to the supreme court.

Text of the Opinion.

In his opinion Judge Acheson reviews the evidence produced at the hearing at great length. He speaks of the conflicting testimony and says that is not a matter for him to deal with. He continues:

In view of all the evidence herein, should this court interfere to prevent the trial of the petitioners upon the indictment in the state court—take the petitioners out of the custody of the authorities of the state and discharge them finally without trial by any civil court in the regular administration of justice? This is the question which confronts us.

Undoubtedly a court of habeas corpus for the purpose of inquiring into the cause of the restraint of the liberty of any prisoner held in custody under the authority of any state, whether by virtue of an indictment or otherwise, whenever it is in due form alleged that he is in custody for an act done, or committed in pursuance of a law of the United States, or is in custody in violation of the Constitution or of a law or treaty of the United States and to proceed in a summary manner to determine the facts and thereupon to dispose of the party as law and justice require.

Principles Are Laid Down.

But in the exercise of this authority the courts and judges of the United States are to be governed by the principles laid down by the supreme court in the cases of ex parte Royall, 117 U. S. 24; Whitten vs. Tomlinson 160 U. S. 231, and Baker vs. Grice, 169 U. S. 284. The doctrine of those cases is that, except in instances of peculiar urgency, or where there is no jurisdiction in the state court to try the prisoner for the offense charged (as were the cases in re Neagle, 135 U. S. 1; in re Waite, 81 Fed. Rep. 359, and Ohio vs. Thomas, 173 U. S. 276), the court or judge shall not discharge the prisoner in advance of his trial in the state court, and even after the final determination of the case in the state courts should generally leave him to his remedy by writ of error from the supreme court of the United States.

Jurisdiction of the Civil Courts.

As the primary question here is whether the petitioners are amenable to the state court upon the indictment found therein, it is proper to quote at length one of the articles for the government of the armies of the United States prescribed by section 1342 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, viz.:

"Article 59—When any officer or soldier is accused of a capital crime, or of any offense against the person or property of any citizen of the United States which is punishable by the laws of the land, the commanding officer and the officers of the regiment, troop, cavalry, battery, company or detachment, to which the person so accused belongs, are required, except in time of war, on application duly made by or in behalf of the party injured, to use their utmost endeavors to deliver him over to the civil magistrate, and to aid the officers of justice in apprehending and securing him in order to bring him to trial. If, upon such application, any officer refuses, or wilfully neglects, except in time of war, to deliver over such accused person to the civil magistrates, or to aid the officers of justice in apprehending him, he shall be dismissed from the service."

This enactment is a distinct recognition by congress of the general jurisdiction in time of peace of the civil courts of a state over persons in the military service of the United States, who are accused of a capital crime, or of any offense against the person of a citizen, committed within such state. Such criminal jurisdiction has always been exercised by the state courts.

Not on Federal Land.

Clearly the indictment against the petitioners presents a case prima facie cognizable in the courts of Pennsylvania. The appointment was confirmed by the senate.

KEYSTONE MEN OFF FOR FAIR

Crowd of Well-Known Men Start for St. Louis to Dedicate the State Building.

EXHIBIT A CREDITABLE ONE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Press Building,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., April 28.

The Pennsylvania commission to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition left on a special train over the Pennsylvania railroad at 5 o'clock this afternoon. The commissioners will reach St. Louis in time to participate in the opening ceremonies of the world's fair, which takes place Saturday.

The dedication of the Pennsylvania state building will occur on Monday, May 2. In the absence of Gov. Pennypacker, Lieut.-Gov. William M. Brown will preside. Speaker of the house of representatives, Henry F. Walton, will make the dedicatory address. Invitations have been issued to President David R. Francis and his associates in the management of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Commission to Col. George F. Reynolds, president of the Pennsylvania society at St. Louis, and his fellow-members of that organization, and a general invitation has been extended to all former residents of Pennsylvania residing in St. Louis and vicinity to be present at the ceremonies.

Pennypacker to Speak.

Gov. Pennypacker has accepted an invitation of the commission to make an address at St. Louis on Pennsylvania day, August 20, on the anniversary of the battle of Fallen Timbers, where Gen. Anthony Wayne, a native of Pennsylvania, who was then commander-in-chief of the American army, directed the forces which won a signal victory over the Indians and made the way possible for the Louisiana purchase. It is probable that some troops from this state will take part in the ceremonies incident to Pennsylvania day.

Speaker Walton, who is chairman of the executive committee of the Louisiana Purchase exposition, before boarding the train this evening, said:

We feel that Pennsylvania should be gratified with the reports received from St. Louis regarding the Pennsylvania building and the exhibits being made by Pennsylvania in the various departments of the exposition.

The Pennsylvania state building is completed and is one of the most imposing structures on the grounds. We have received many complimentary allusions to our work from the authorities of the exposition and feel that the Keystone state has been placed in the front ranks of the displays made by the various commonwealths of the union.

The fisheries exhibit, and the exhibit of the mines and mining department, are particularly notable displays; and the exhibit made by the educational department will compare favorably with that made by any other state in the country. Not only have the large cities contributed to this display, but educational institutions from every section of the commonwealth. The manufacturing interests of the state will be well represented, and in the departments of art and sciences, horticulture, agriculture, commercial museums and public institutions, the showing from the Keystone state will be attractive and comprehensive.

Praise From Francis.

Just before boarding the train, Speaker Walton received the following dispatch from the president of the Louisiana Purchase exposition commission:

Accept on behalf of myself and colleagues your kind invitation to be present at the dedication of the Pennsylvania building on Monday next. Congratulations on the prompt completion of your magnificent building, and the very complete display made by Pennsylvania in the various departments.

In the party were the following: Lieut. Gov. William M. Brown, Mrs. Brown and daughter of New Castle, Pa.; Speaker Henry F. Walton and Mrs. Walton, Senator and Mrs. John M. Scott, Senator and Mrs. John C. Grady, Representative Theodore B. Stulb and sister, William S. Harvey, Morris L. Clothier, Senator and Mrs. Joseph H. Gazzam, Dr. and Mrs. Charles B. Penrose, Mr. and Mrs. James Pollock, Col. and Mrs. James P. Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. Philip H. Johnson, Mrs. Thomas F. Durham and George J. Brennan and Miss Daisy Brennan of Philadelphia; Maj. and Mrs. Isaac B. Brown of Harrisburg, Senator and Mrs. William C. Sproul, Chester; Senator and Mrs. Cyrus E. Woods, Greensburg; Representative William B. Kirker of Allegheny; Representative Wayne and daughter, Paoli; Representative John A. F. Hoy, Clarion; Representative and Mrs. Fred T. Ikeler, Bloomsburg; Representative William H. Ulrich, Hummelstown; Representative A. F. Cooper, Indiana; Representative and Mrs. Frank B. McClain, Lancaster; Representative George Hartman, Wilkesburre; Col. H. H. Gilkyson, Phoenixville, and Mr. and Mrs. James McBrier, Erie, Pa.

Thompson Will Be Attorney.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The president today sent to the senate the nomination of J. Whittaker Thompson to be United States attorney for the eastern district of Pennsylvania. The appointment was confirmed by the senate.

PITTSBURGHERS FURNISH FUNDS

Great Sugar Plant Is to Be Established in Cuba.

COMPANY CHARTERED

Adrian H. Larkin Is a Director in the New $3,000,000 Concern.

LARGE ESTATE IS ACQUIRED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, April 28.

Pittsburgh capital is interested in the Colonial Sugars Company, which is incorporated under the laws of New Jersey, with a capital stock of $3,000,000, and is to build the largest sugar factory in the world in Cuba. The capacity of the plant will be not less than 5,000 tons of cane per day, which it is claimed will produce 1,150,000 pounds of raw sugar.

The company, on the board of which is Adrian H. Larkin, a director of the Pressed Steel Car Company, has acquired the estate formerly known as "Constancia," one of the largest in Cuba and located on the south side of the island in the province of Santa Clara, 12 miles from the city of Cienfuegos. The estate is contiguous to tidewater, which is reached by the navigable Damuji river. Upward of $5,000,000 was spent on it by the former Spanish owners. It was wrecked by the insurrection and war on the island. The area aggregates 54,655 acres, of which 25,000 acres are available for sugar culture. There are 54 plantations.

M. R. Spelman, the president of the company, is now in New York rushing the plans for the construction and equipment of the sugar plant. A new system of milling machinery will be installed which will result, it is claimed, in cheapening the cost of production to a large extent.

Pittsburgh material and equipment will be largely used. Rails, locomotives, cars, etc., will have to be purchased. The huge factory, it is expected, will be in full running order by December.

The next biggest plant is that of the Chaparra Sugar Company, in the south side of Cuba. Its daily capacity is 2,500 tons. The plant cost about $750,000.

In completion of the Constancia factory an expenditure will be required of nearly $1,500,000, while the whole property will represent an expenditure of fully $2,500,000.

CONNELL WILL RETIRE.

Will Not Seek Another Term in Congress Because of His Age.

SCRANTON, PA., April 28.—(Special.)—After securing positive assurance of renomination without opposition Congressman William Connell today authorized The Gazette correspondent to announce that he would not seek another term.

His paper, the Scranton Tribune, will say tomorrow morning that on account of his advanced age Mr. Connell has decided to retire from politics. He has been elected every time he ran, the past three terms, and could be again elected. It is a certainty because of this being a presidential year. His family and close personal friends, however, advised that he avoid another campaign, and he has decided to heed their advice.

FORMER GOV. CAMPBELL WILL RETURN TO OHIO

NEW YORK, April 28.—(Special.)—James E. Campbell, former governor of Ohio, will return next fall to spend his days in his home town of Hamilton, O. He has for the last five years been a resident of New York, living most of that time at the New Amsterdam hotel. He achieved the distinction in 1889 of being the first Democrat to be elected governor of Ohio for many years, and his triumph brought him to the front rank in his party. His nomination for president was discussed in 1892, when Grover Cleveland was named for the office.

WILL UNDERWRITE CAPITAL FOR LAKE SUPERIOR CO.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28.—(Special.)—It was announced by counsel today that the Canadian Improvement Company had executed a contract with the Moffly committee to underwrite all the unsubscribed capital for the reorganized Consolidated Lake Superior Company. The meeting of the Moffly committee, at which the detailed plan of reorganization will be announced, it was said today, will be held early next week.

LAST SURVIVOR OF 1812 IS 104 YEARS OLD TODAY

UTICA, N. Y., April 28.—(Special.)—With nearly all his faculties gone, Hiram Cronk of Dunnbrook, the only survivor of the war of 1812, today completed his 104th milestone. His birthday anniversary is tomorrow. The aged pensioner's life is gradually ebbing away.

Carnegie Interested in Project.

NEW YORK, April 28.—New York is to have a liberally-endowed conservatory of music within a few months. James Loeb will give $500,000 as a nucleus of such endowment, and 10 of his friends will each subscribe $50,000. Among those interested in the project is Andrew Carnegie, who is said to have offered to the conservatory the use of Carnegie hall.

Bimski-Korssakoff Promoted.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 28.—Rear Admiral Bimski-Korssakoff, the governor of Archangel, has been appointed commander of the Black Sea fleet.

CLAIRTON SALE IS CONSUMMATED

Terminal Bonds Are to Be Guaranteed by the Steel Corporation.

TO TAKE FINAL STEPS TODAY

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, April 28.

At the second day's conference on the sale of the Clairton Steel Company between the receivers of the concern and the finance committee of the United States Steel Corporation, matters were so shaped as to make the consummation of the deal possible. Absolute secrecy as to what terms were made is maintained by the parties interested, but it was announced tonight at former Judge Gary's office that a statement would be given out tomorrow.

There is considerable speculation in steel circles here as to whether or not the disturbing feature in the transaction, the guaranteeing of the Clairton terminal railroad bonds, should be eliminated. But a statement by a member of the finance committee that the deal was about completed seemed to argue that those who are interested in being protected in this portion of the Clairton's outstanding indebtedness had received assurances satisfying to themselves.

The shape the deal is now in and the reported readjustment of the financial guarantee by the Steel Corporation is causing much comment on the loss to be sustained by the concerns interested in the Clairton Company.

Rumor had it today that rather than permit the collapse of the deal, W. G. Park of the Crucible Steel Company, which controls the stock of the Clairton Company, had made concessions in order that the objecting element might secure a firmer footing in the transaction.

This could not be verified tonight, as all parties directly interested refused to discuss the transaction. However, one man who is high in power in the United States Steel Corporation said:

"In a trade of the magnitude of the Clairton transaction there are matters coming up continually that require adjusting. The friction of yesterday was but natural. I do not think that I would call it a hitch. However, matters have now been all smoothed out and the deal is practically closed."

This statement, in connection with the fact that James H. Beal, the attorney for one of the banking concerns at Pittsburgh which is interested in the deal, was in the conference today, is taken to mean that the papers have been signed, and a legal tender will be made tomorrow.

ALEXANDER DO...

Terminal Bonds Guaranteed.

The Pittsburgh Trust Company's demand that it be given all the consideration shown to the holders of the old bonds of the Clairton interests was granted, it was stated yesterday. The bonds, of which the Pittsburgh Trust Company was trustee, amounted to $8,000,000 and covered the Clairton terminal railroad and bridge properties. The guarantee of the United States Steel Corporation was extended to these bonds as well as to the bonds of the Clairton Steel Company proper. The Pittsburgh Trust Company turned over the Clairton stock which it held to W. G. Park, one of the Clairton receivers, and agreed in the deal when its claims were satisfied.

MAYOR WITH BIG PISTOL PUTS END TO GAMBLING

Council Bluffs' Chief Executive Arrests 14 Single Handed. Crafters Now Leaving.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

COUNCIL BLUFFS, IA., April 28.—With his back to the door and a "45" Colt revolver in his hand, Mayor McCrea of this city last night raided the big and fashionable Manhattan saloon and alleged gambling den, arresting, single handed, 14 inmates, and confiscated the paraphernalia of the place.

Afterward the mayor made the rounds of the town, raided three other smaller gambling dens and practically broke up gambling in the city within two hours.

The mayor's actions came as the culmination of a crusade against gambling which has been waged for some time, and in which, it is said, the mayor could not secure the co-operation of the police force.

Today all gamblers are asking to be permitted to leave town without further prosecutions.

SAVED MANY LIVES.

Young Boy Prevents Train Laden With Columbus (O.) People from Striking Rock.

NORFOLK, VA., April 28.—(Special.)—The heroism of Leonard Howard, a 13-year-old boy, saved a Norfolk & Western train and possibly 80 passengers who were bound to this city from Columbus, O. The boy's heroic act occurred between this city and Roanoke.

Without hesitating, and with rare presence of mind, knowing that a huge rock had fallen on the rails, the boy dashed up the track, waving his cap and shouting. The engineer understood the situation and applied the emergency airbrakes. The train, with grinding, sparksplitting wheels, slid down the track, but could not be stopped before the engine struck the rock. The boy's signal, however, saved the train, for no damage was done beyond crushing the front of the locomotive. A purse was made up for the little hero.

ATTACK ON BENWOOD MAYOR MAY PROVE FATAL TO HIM

WHEELING, W. VA., April 28.—(Special.)—Mayor John Manley of Benwood was assaulted by William Jones on the Baltimore & Ohio bridge crossing the Ohio river, at Bellaire today. Jones struck the mayor in the face and sent him headlong over the bridge. A projection on the pier about 20 feet below stopped his fall. Manley had almost succeeded in crawling back when Jones struck him again and tried to push him into the river. Others came to the mayor's assistance and he was taken home with three fractured ribs, a broken nose and internal injuries which may result in death. Jones is in jail at Moundsville charged with assault with intent to ...

ALLIS-CHALMERS MEN WILL FOLLOW WEST TO PITTSBURGH

MILWAUKEE, WIS., April 28.—(Special.)—Rumor says a big shake-up is in sight among Milwaukee employes of the Allis-Chalmers Company. It is asserted that a number of changes in the more important positions are to be made. The resignation of Arthur West of the Allis-Chalmers Company to accept the position of chief engineer of the Westinghouse Machine Company has emphasized the report in wide circulation, and it is said number of the best men of the Allis-Chalmers Company will follow Mr. West to his new field of labor.

RUSSIA LOSES ON THE YALU

Suffers a Disastrous Repulse After Two Days Fighting.

CZAR'S MEN RETREAT

Two Hundred Japanese Are Sunk in a Transport at Sea.

COURT-MARTIAL MAY FOLLOW

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

SHANGHAI, April 29, 2 p. m.—It is reported here that the Russians have suffered a disastrous repulse after two days' fighting on the Yalu river. The Japanese forces crossed the river and the Russians retreated.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

St. Petersburg, April 28.—The sinking of the Kinshiu Maru and the Japanese on board, who refused to surrender, was confirmed today in the following official report of Rear Admiral Yeszen:

"During the night of April 26, two Russian torpedo boats met at sea the Japanese military transport Kinshiu Maru, of 4,000 tons, laden with rice and other military stores and about 1,500 tons of coal. The transport was armed with four Hotchkiss guns of 47 millimeters. The Russians captured on board 17 officers, 20 soldiers, 85 military carriers, or coolies, and 65 of the crew, who surrendered.

"The remainder of the men, who were to form a landing party and who were left without officers, obstinately refused to surrender or go on board a Russian cruiser. Furthermore, they offered armed resistance to the Russians. In the end they were sent to the bottom with the transport."

Emperor Is Indignant.

St. Petersburg is loaded with rumors regarding the sinking of the Japanese military transport. One report has it that 3,000 men were aboard the transport when she went down, but the admiralty insists that there were only 200.

It is said that the emperor is highly indignant over the affair and that he will relieve Yeszen and order him to be court-martialed.

The officials say that there is no similarity between the sinking of the Kinshiu Maru and the destruction of the Kowshing China, as Russia is at war with Japan. That Admiral Yeszen gave the men every opportunity to leave the ship is proved by the fact that all the officers, some of the soldiers, the crew and the coolies were transferred on board a Russian cruiser.

The Official Messenger publishes a circular, issued by the foreign office to Russian representatives abroad, declaring catagorically that Russia will not accept mediation to terminate the war, which, the circular declares, was forced on her.

NAGASAKI, April 28.—(Special Cable.)—The sinking of the transport Kinshiu Maru by Russian torpedo boats, with a number of Japanese troops aboard, has caused intense excitement here.

A naval officer today expressed the general opinion when he said:

From a Japanese Viewpoint.

"They call us a heathen nation and Russia a Christian. This last heroic feat of the Russian navy shows where the savagery is. With a great squadron of armored cruisers and smaller craft they could find no other way of dealing with an unarmed transport than to send her to the bottom with her freight of heroic souls who preferred death to dishonor. I warrant you that neither Togo, nor Uriu nor Kamemura nor any of Japan's gallant sailors would have been guilty of so heinous a crime. Russia may find that Japan can play the game, neither asking nor giving quarter, if she prefers it that way."

The feeling is strong here that the Russian squadron operating in the Japan sea is in a trap from which it never will escape. The news of its destruction at any time would cause very little surprise here.

CHEFOO, April 28.—(Special Cable.)—Hard fighting is reported along the Yalu and the Japanese apparently have made good their position on the north bank of the river in a number of places. Troops have been landed both above and below Antung, which is the key of the Russian position, and under the cover of the first arrivals and the gunboats reinforcements are being poured into Manchuria.

Ready to Attack Antung.

It is expected that, before the end of the week, the Japanese will be in position to make an attack on Antung in force, if the Russians wait for it, which is doubtful. According to reports the Japanese have not accomplished the crossing of the Yalu without hard fighting and considerable loss. The losses are said from Russian sources to have been heavy.

TOKYO, April 28.—The Japanese gunboat Maya, escorting a fleet of torpedo boats, entered the mouth of the Yalu river on Monday and moved toward Wiju. En route it fought a series of small engagements with the Russian forces protecting the right bank of the river. These encounters transpired frequently throughout Monday and Tuesday. Admiral Hosoya, commanding the Third squadron, in reporting the operations, says:

"Our detachment reached the Yalu river Monday and while going up stream the enemy's field guns opened against us without effect. We discovered a force of the enemy on the island in mid-stream and when we fired on them they fled. On Tuesday the enemy's cavalry, 100 strong, attacked our launch. Our torpedo boat No. 69 replied and the enemy fled into the mountains. From Antushan we replied to the enemy's guns and silenced them after an hour. There were no casualties on our side."

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Paris, April 28.—Recognizing the importance of bringing his navy up to the highest efficiency, it now looks as if the sultan of Turkey would have American talent reorganize his rather antiquated navy. The first step in this direction was made when he conferred the rank of vice admiral upon Capt. Buchanan, who conducted the new American-built Turkish warship Medjidji safely from Cramps American shipyards to Constantinople. For years the sultan has been reorganizing his army, inducing German officers of the highest ability to train his soldiers. This plan is now almost finished, and the Turkish soldiers are among the best in the world. The Turkish navy is in a very bad condition, even on paper, counting only one first-class battleship, one second class and seven third class, but these ships are suffering from the same defects which have been disclosed in the Russian navy, and hardly any of them would withstand the firing of a single broadside of her own guns.

Realizing the superiority of the Medjidji, the sultan was seized with admiration, and is now trying to devise means to acquire a modern navy of American-built ships. The only trouble is that money is not very plentiful in the Turkish treasury. The sultan is at present trying to show Great Britain that it would be of great advantage to England if Turkey possessed a navy equal to that which Russia possesses in the Black sea. And it is by no means impossible that he may secure a loan which will enable him to buy more American ships. The appointment of Capt. Buchanan to vice admiral is believed here to mean that this American officer will practically be the head of the Turkish fleet, even if some native officer may be appointed to a higher command.

It is known that Abdul Hamid has closely watched the records made by American marines and gunners at target practice, and he is very anxious to have American officers help train his gunners to the same perfection.

A well-known diplomat said today: "Recent events in the far east have demonstrated to the Turks that the Russian navy is not invincible. The presence of the Black sea squadron has been constantly used to overawe the porte to compel concessions to Russia and to promise reforms in European Turkey, which may cause her to lose those vilayets. With the Russian Black sea fleet wiped out the fear of Russia would be greatly diminished, if not altogether banished, and Turkey could do what she pleased with her European subjects, and could throw off Russian influence altogether. There is another theory. Turkey's sympathies are unquestionably with Japan, her sister Asiatic power. Japan does not want the combined Baltic and Black sea squadrons to go to the far east. Her friend Turkey makes a show of activity, which makes it impossible for Russia to withdraw her naval force from the Black sea, and there you are. Is Great Britain behind Turkey in this move? Stranger things have happened."

WHAT VOTING MACHINES COST

Commissioner Mercer Says He Will Oppose the Adoption of the Devices.

COUNTY WOULD PAY $309,000

The next legislature will be asked to pass a bill providing for the adoption of voting machines. One of the mechanical devices is now being exhibited in Pittsburgh. Yesterday Commissioner J. C. Mercer was invited to inspect it. When he returned to the court house he was enthusiastic about the scheme of substituting machinery for the present plan of voting until he started to figure on the cost.

Voting machines cost $500 each. There are 618 districts in the county, and to equip each precinct would cause an investment of $309,000. The interest on this sum would be $18,540. In addition, there would be the cost of storage, insurance and hauling. These items would be large. The machine is about six feet in height and over three feet in width. Its weight is between 450 and 500 pounds. The county would have to build a big storage house to keep the property in, and the annual cost of distributing the devices would be considerable.

After carefully figuring the cost, Mr. Mercer said that he would oppose the adoption of machines. The expense of holding elections in the county last year was $12,023 47. There would be little of this cost saved by the introduction of machines.

During the session of 1901 an attempt was made to secure legislation permitting the use of machines. Gov. W. A. Stone wrote a strong veto. Based on the number of districts in the state at the November election of 1902, it would cost $2,823,500 to install voting machines in Pennsylvania. As new precincts are annually added in the populous counties, the cost would be greater.

Below is a table showing what it will cost each county to provide voting machines:

Adams	$ 17,000	Huntingdon	31,500
Allegheny	309,000	Indiana	23,000

WHIST TOURNEY ENDED.

Four Trophies Awarded to Winners—Pittsburgh Woman Is Elected to Office.

BALTIMORE, April 28.—The winners of the four principal trophies at the Women's Whist convention follows:

Washington trophy, championship for teams, won by the Colonial club of Philadelphia, represented by Mrs. Gilpin, Mrs. Campion, Mrs. Burby and Mrs. McCarthy by 10 matches.

Philadelphia cup championship for pairs, won by Mrs. McCrea and Mrs. Goldsborough of the Cranford club, Washington, D. C., plus 16 and 9—132.

Cavendish trophy, the junior trophy of the league for teams of four, represented by Mrs. McCord, Mrs. Bolling, Mrs. De Reeves and Mrs. Dixon of the New Amsterdam club of New York, won by five matches.

Toledo trophy, for mixed teams of four, won by Mrs. Barney, Mrs. Beaman, Mrs. E. L. Wood and Mr. F. M. Linnell by 7½ matches.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. E. L. Hall of Haverford, Pa.; first vice president, Mrs. H. G. Noel, St. Louis, Mo.; second vice president, Mrs. H. W. Gannon, New York; recording secretary, Mrs. G. T. Thompson, Pittsburgh, Pa.; treasurer, Mrs. S. W. Pettit, Philadelphia. Directors for three years—Mrs. W. S. Waterhouse, Boston; Mrs. Wheelock, Milwaukee, who were re-elected, and Mrs. C. D. Hamilton, St. Louis, and Mrs. Gatchell of Philadelphia.

OPPOSED TO VIOLENCE.

John Mitchell Would Rather Lose a Strike Than Resort to Physical Force.

NEW YORK, April 28.—(Special.)—John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, will say in an article which will be printed in Saturday's Churchman:

It is sometimes claimed that no strike can be won without the use of physical force. I do not believe this to be true, but if it were better that the strike be lost than that it succeed through violence and the commission of outrages. The struggle of labor is not for a day or a month or a year, and the cause of unionism is not lost through any single strike or through any number of strikes. If it were true that all strikes would fail if physical force could not be resorted to, it would be better to demonstrate that fact and to seek remedy in other directions than to permit strikes to degenerate into conflicts between armed men. If it be shown that strikes cannot be won without violence, then it will be necessary to secure reforms for workingmen exclusively through political action.

LAWSON FOR PUBLICITY.

Resigns from Brokerage Firm Because Stock Exchanges Forbid Giving of Information.

BOSTON, April 28.—It was announced on the stock exchange today that Thomas W. Lawson has severed his connection with the firm of Lawson, Arnold & Co., bankers and brokers. The firm holds membership in both the Boston and New York stock exchanges.

In a statement Mr. Lawson said the rules of the stock exchange of which his firm is a member, "forbid that degree of publicity" which at the present time he deemed necessary in order to carry on his "contest against certain interests." He said that he owed it to the public to vigorously combat those who, he thinks, have done the public wrong and that he owed the public the further duty of "telling them what he does and why he does it."

KILLED BY LADLE TRAIN.

Two Men Crushed to Death By Cars. Dead Man Is Identified.

While enveloped in a mist of steam Andrew Polack, an employe of the Edgar Thomson blast furnaces at Braddock, yesterday morning was struck by a ladle train and ground to death. He was a leader among the Poles.

Giovanni Bellina, aged 50, a miner of Woodville, was killed by a Panhandle train yesterday at Leesdale.

The body found in a house at Buena Vista Wednesday morning was identified yesterday as that of Bert Lenehan, aged 40, of Wilkinsburg.

ACTRESSES ATTACKED IN THEATER AT BEAVER FALLS

BEAVER FALLS, April 28.—(Special.)—Three girls belonging to the Laura McKay Burlesque company were attacked by men in the gallery of the Sixth Avenue theater where they had gone to sell tickets for a concert to follow, tonight. They fought back and their scanty clothing was almost torn off. Because the show was stopped and the money was not returned, a riot occurred. The three girls had to be guarded on their way to their hotel.

BISHOP PHELAN JUBILEE DETAILS ARE FIXED

Uniformed Escort for Visiting Dignitaries—Route of Procession Named.

All arrangements for the golden jubilee of the Rt. Rev. Bishop Phelan have been completed. It was announced yesterday that among the distinguished guests will be the Very Rev. Canon Phelan, a brother of Bishop Phelan. Canon Phelan sailed from Ireland on April 23 and is due in New York tomorrow.

The committee having in charge the reception and escort of the high churchmen who will arrive in Pittsburgh next Tuesday to participate in the exercises on Wednesday, announces the route of the procession will be from Union station to Liberty avenue, to Fifth avenue, up Fifth avenue to Washington street, to Franklin street, to the Epiphany Episcopal residence. The escort will include uniformed societies of the Knights of St. John, Knights of St. George and other societies.

At the reception in the Art gallery the visitors will be presented to Bishop Phelan, Cardinal Gibbons, the archbishops, bishops and other visiting dignitaries.

APOLLO CLUB BANQUET.

Soloist Made a Hit at the Last of the Series This Season.

The last concert of their season was given last evening by the Apollo club at Carnegie Music hall before an audience which filled the house. This organization is one of the great local favorites, and attendance was further stimulated by the fact that the soloist was Madame Hissem De Moss, soprano, who is so well known here. Two years ago Mme. De Moss appeared with the Apollo club, and last year she sang again in Pittsburgh, but with the Mozart club, in oratorio. She has a beautiful soprano voice, and her numbers were chosen to show its capabilities in the more lyric qualities.

An innovation and a very pleasing one was the famous sextette from Donizetti's "Lucia," which was sung by Madame De Moss, Miss Charlotte Wagner, and Messrs. C. C. Rinehart, E. M. Davis, John P. Roberts and George F. Wagner. It was one of the best received numbers on the program.

The work of the club in its various choruses was uniformly good throughout. It was marked by excellent unison and correctness of phrasing. Mr. Rinehart Meyer conducted, and to him much of the thoroughness of the training is due.

LUNCHEON FOR TAFT.

Americus Club Guests Entertained at Two Clubs—All Left Last Evening.

The honor guests of the Americus club spent a pleasant day yesterday, departing last night. Secretary of War W. H. Taft and Judge J. Franklin Fort were given a luncheon at the Pittsburgh club by Maj. G. M. Laughlin and Attorney General P. C. Knox. Willis F. Moore and Gen. B. H. Warner were entertained during the forenoon at the Union club by Attorney Harry C. Goehring. A visit was then made to one of the industrial concerns along the Allegheny river.

Secretary Taft left last night at 8:25 for Cincinnati, where he will remain for a day, before going to St. Louis to represent President Roosevelt at the opening of the world's fair. Mr. Knox left at 10 o'clock for Washington. J. Hampton Moore went to Chicago at 9 o'clock and Judge Fort returned to New Jersey. W. L. Moore, Gen. Warner and Col. Shoemaker left at 9 o'clock for Washington.

JAPAN'S NEW POWDER.

It Will Burn Under Water but the Shells Only Break Rooster's Leg.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 28.—The Port Arthur correspondent of the Russky Invalid writes:

"The Japanese have invented a new combustible. It is inextinguishable. They tried to burn the battleship Retvizan by setting adrift rafts loaded with this burning material. The Retvizan sank them, but the combustible continued to burn under water.

"A Japanese 12-inch shell exploded in the yard of Gen. Stoessel's house, outside Port Arthur. It broke a rooster's leg."

WARRANTS ARE DRAWN FOR PAYMENT TO PANAMA

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(Special.)—Secretary Shaw drew two warants today for the payments due the republic of Panama. One is for $1,000,000 and is to be handed to J. P. Morgan & Co., and the other warrant, for $9,000,000, will be given to Secretary Hay to be held until the arrival of the Panama minister, who is authorized to receive it. The Panama minister will arrive here some time in June. The $1,000,000 to be paid to J. P. Morgan & Co. is understood to be to reimburse them for money advanced the junta, but the rate they paid for the accommodation is not known.

WAR AGAINST SPOTTED FEVER IS BEGUN AT LEAGUE ISLAND

PHILADELPHIA, April 28.—(Special.)—War against spotted fever at League island was begun in earnest today. One of the victims died, two other sailors were taken ill with the disease and Dr. P. M. Rixey, chief surgeon of the United States navy, hurried here from Washington and outlined a plan to fight the ailment. There are four men now down with the disease in an isolated part of the camp at the navy yard. The entire camp will be fumigated tomorrow.

FIFTY MINERS BURIED IN CAVE-IN AT TOCINA MINE

MADRID, April 28.—The caving in of a coal mine at Tocina, Seville, today, buried many miners. Fifty bodies have been recovered. Ten of the miners were rescued, but all of them are badly hurt.

Sheraden Water Fight Compromised.

The long fight between the citizens of Sheraden and the Chartiers Valley Water Company was settled yesterday by the company agreeing to accept 75 per cent of the amount assessed for the hill district and 50 per cent for the lower district. The residents who refused to pay the water bills joined to fight the case in court. The compromise will effect about 300 families.

Mrs. George Sevis Dead.

Mrs. George Sevis, aged 52, for many years a resident of Edgeworth, died yesterday at her home at that place, after an illness of two years. She was born in Baltimore, Md. She is survived by her husband and five children, Mrs. C. H. Stackman of Sewickley; Mrs. William Wenzell of Homestead; Mrs. Joseph McClelland of Barberton, O.; the Misses Stella and Edna Sevis. Mrs. Sevis was a member of the Presbyterian church at Shields.

Harriman-Pierce Suit Postponed.

NEW YORK, April 28.—The hearing in the Harriman-Pierce suit against the Northern Securities plan for distribution of railroad stocks, which was to come before United States Judge Kirkpatrick at Newark today, was again postponed, adjournment being taken until Monday, May 9.

One Year Allegheny Garbage Contract.

Allegheny select council last night passed finally the ordinance authorizing the mayor and the director of the department of public safety to advertise for bids for the removal of the city's garbage for one year. The original ordinance provided for a four-year contract, but was amended.

HINT AT INTERVENTION MADE BY THE KAISER

Reaches Karlsruhe — President Loubet at Naples—King Edward Lays Corner Stone.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

KARLSRUHE, BADEN, April 28.—Emperor William, accompanied by the empress, who met his majesty at Strassburg, arrived here this evening. They were received by the grand duke and duchess of Baden and Chancellor Von Buelow and were enthusiastically greeted by large crowds of people. Responding to a speech by the chief burgomaster, the kaiser said he hoped the peace of the world would not be disturbed, and that the events which were being enacted before the eyes of the world would steel German courage, and that his people would be found to be united, if it became necessary to intervene in affairs of the world.

NAPLES, April 28.—President Loubet and King Victor Emmanuel arrived here today from Rome and the French president was given a reception equalling in enthusiasm that accorded him in the Eternal city. The president spent the afternoon in the royal palace, but this evening attended a banquet and later was present at a gala performance in the theater San Carlo. A naval review occurs today.

DUBLIN, April 28.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra had a great popular ovation in the streets of Dublin today, while on their way to lay the foundation stone of the Royal College of Science. Speaking at the corner stone laying, the king declared that in these days scientific training was indispensable to success in commercial and industrial life.

PLANS NO MORE BONDS.

Pittsburgh Terminal Railroad & Coal Co.'s Notice to State Not Significant.

The formality of placing on record with the secretary of state the increase of stock of the Pittsburgh Terminal Railroad and Coal Company has just been gone through with. The amount of stock named in the charter when it was secured was $1,000. The amount which has been proposed from the first is $14,000,000.

This stock is now being issued from the treasury to the stockholders, as originally intended, and for that reason the legal notice of increase is given.

President Charles Donnelly of the company declared yesterday that no short line there would be an additional bond issue.

"The $7,000,000 of bonds already issued is all we propose to put out," he said. "The report of another $7,000,000 is entirely wrong."

AFTER THE CONTROLLER.

Federal Water Company Pushing Its Suit Against the City.

The Federal Water Company's suit against the city and Controller John B. Larkin to enforce payment on the one contract for furnishing water to Marshalsea will be called for trial in a few days.

Controller Larkin was of the opinion that the whole matter had been dropped until yesterday afternoon, when Director James A. Clark of the department of charities and correction called attention for the contracts and all data in relation to the case, in order that preparation might be made for trial.

Shortly after the controller took office he refused to pay a bill of $4,500 for water furnished the poor farm on the ground that the company had abrogated its contract by failure to comply with its provisions, and that therefore payment would be illegal. The company took the case to court, where it has since laid dormant. It is a test of the controller's right to refuse payment.

WANTS NURSE REMOVED.

Allegheny Man Says City Employe Is Not a Citizen of the United States.

Controller James Brown of Allegheny yesterday received an anonymous letter from a man who wishes the removal of Hugh Haggarty, a nurse in the Allegheny municipal hospital. The writer, who says he was a patient at the institution some time ago, asserts that Haggarty is neither a resident of the city nor a citizen of the United States. This, he says, Haggarty told him.

As there is a provision in the charter ordinance prohibiting the employment of non-residents, or persons not citizens of this country, the writer asks that Controller Brown make an investigation. It is not known at the health bureau whether Haggarty is a citizen of the United States or not. Controller Brown says he will look into the matter.

Prof. James A. Matthews Dead.

Prof. James A. Matthews, aged 70, a well-known astronomer of McKeesport, died last night at the McKeesport hospital of paralysis. He was stricken while walking in Fifth avenue, McKeesport, during the afternoon. He was born in Mercer county, Pa., and many years ago removed to McKeesport, where he engaged in the grocery business. Prof. Matthews had been a frequent contributor to newspapers and leading magazines on astronomical subjects and owned one of the finest telescopes in this section. He was a personal friend of Prof. John A. Brashear, acting chancellor of the Western University of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Annie E. Delaney Dead.

Mrs. Annie E. Delaney, aged 69, died yesterday afternoon at the Home for Aged Protestant Couples, Wilkinsburg, of general debility. Mrs. Delaney had been an inmate of the home for four years. She was the widow of Joseph Delaney, who died at the home last August. Her first husband was Edward Hays of Edgewood. She was a member of the Homewood Presbyterian church and is survived by one son, Edward Hays, of Pittsburgh.

SOLDIERS TO STAND TRIAL

able by the state court. Does the evidence disclose any ground to defeat that jurisdiction, or show a case requiring interference by this court to prevent the trial of petitioners upon the indictment? I feel constrained to answer negatively. The shooting of Crowley did not take place upon land purchased by the United States for military purposes by consent of the legislature of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, but outside the arsenal property. It occurred within the territorial jurisdiction of the state court in which the indictment is pending—the only civil court which could have jurisdiction to try the petitioners for the alleged unlawful killing of Crowley. The shooting was not done in obedience to a command to fire given to Drury and Dowd by a superior officer. It will be remembered that the shooting, which Dowd did, and which Drury is alleged to have directed, was, according to the testimony for the commonwealth, of a man who had ceased fight and offered to surrender. It may be conceded that it was the right and duty of the petitioners to pursue and arrest Crowley, who was suspected (justly, it now seems) of being concerned in the larceny of some pieces of copper taken off one of the arsenal buildings, but it by no means follows that if the homicide as testified by the witnesses for the commonwealth is not liked by the subject of judicial investigation in the orderly course of procedure by the civil court having jurisdiction of such offences as are charged in this indictment. Crowley, moreover, was a citizen of Pennsylvania. He was not in the military service nor subject to military law. The case is wholly unlike the cases of United States vs. Clark, 31 Fed. Rep. 710, and In re Fair, 100 Fed. Rep. 149.

Precedents Not Found.

In the former of these cases the shooting occurred within a military reservation of the United States and was of a military convict (a soldier) by a military guard to prevent the escape of the convict. In the other case (in re Fair) the person shot was a military prisoner held in a fort of the United States under a charge of desertion, who, with violence, had overcome the military guard, and was immediately pursued beyond the fort by soldiers on guard duty, who fired to prevent his escape. Moreover, in each of these cases, and indeed in every case brought to my attention wherein a United States court or judge upon habeas corpus has discharged a prisoner in custody under state authority, the facts entitling the prisoner to exemption from state control were undisputed. But in the present case there is a serious conflict of evidence involving an important issue of fact—namely, whether Crowley was shot while fleeing to escape arrest or after he had stopped and turned around and virtually had surrendered.

They Will Be Protected.

It is very clear that on a habeas corpus hearing such as this it is not competent for the court to determine, upon conflicting evidence, whether the person under indictment in the state court is guilty or innocent of the offense of which he is accused. Whether his shooting of Crowley was justifiable or excusable must be determined by the state court to whose jurisdiction the petitioners are subject. That the petitioners will be protected in that court in all their legal rights is not to be doubted.

An order will be made discharging the writ of habeas corpus and remanding the petitioners to the custody of the warden of the jail of Allegheny county.

OBSERVED FOUNDER'S DAY.

Bishop Hartley of Columbus Was Honor Guest at Passionist Celebration.

Members of the Passionist order in this section yesterday celebrated the feast day of the founder of the order, St. Paul of the Cross, at the Passionist monastery in Monastery avenue, South Side. The Rt. Rev. J. J. Hartley, bishop of the Columbus diocese, celebrated pontifical high mass. He was assisted by the Rev. Father Joseph Suehr, the Rev. Father Charles J. Coyne, the Rev. Father John Haeckel, the Rev. Father Ferdinand Klitell and the Rev. Father C. A. McDermott. The Rt. Rev. J. F. Regis Canevin, coadjutor bishop of Pittsburgh, preached the sermon. P. E. Ward had charge of the musical program.

The children of St. Michael's parochial school in Pius street, South Side, which is in charge of the Passionist order, marched in procession to the monastery at 2 p. m., and vesper services were sung at 3 o'clock by Bishop Hartley, who was assisted on the altar by the Rev. Father Aidie, the Rev. Father Athanasius, the Rev. Father Ambrose and the Rev. Father Linus. At 7:30 p. m., devotional services and veneration of the relic of St. Paul of the Cross were held.

SON MOURNED AS DEAD RETURNS TO PARENTS' HOME

James Fitzimmons, a former well-known amateur baseball player and athlete, who has been thought dead since last December, returned to the home of his father, John Fitzimmons, in Butler street, Etna, yesterday, after an absence of five years. Notices of his death appeared in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia papers and in a New York sporting paper on December 24 last, stating that he died suddenly in Philadelphia. His family could get no further information. Fitzimmons says that he has been for the last year at Uniontown.

509 WOOD STREET.

STATE BANK'S AFFAIRS ARE BEING CLOSED UP

Appraisers Are Named and Master to Settle Certain Claims Is to Be Appointed.

N. F. Sanford and William Montgomery were yesterday appointed appraisers of the papers and property of the closed State Bank of Pittsburgh in Liberty street, Bloomfield. The appointment was made by the Dauphin county court. This action is the legal routine toward ending the bank's business. When the appraisers have established the values of the properties, the receiver, John F. Steel, will sell the property. The main asset is a tract of about 4,300 acres of coal land in Washington county, has been sought by several concerns, but a deal for it has not yet been closed.

Before a settlement can be effected with those to whom the bank owes money, it will be necessary to have a master appointed who will decide what claims are "preferred." There is one case of an unpaid certified check to which the certification was made just a day or two before the bank closed. Another case is that of a check which had been issued a month before the bank closed, but was not presented for payment promptly.

When the master has rendered his decision in this case, the stockholders will be called upon to meet their double liability, which bank stockholders are required to do in this state. It is not likely, it is stated, that this full penalty can be avoided in this case. This will add $50,000 to the assets. Just what the proceeds will be cannot yet be estimated.

PRIMITIVE METHODISTS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The thirty-second annual conference of the Primitive Methodist church of Pennsylvania was held yesterday in the First Primitive Methodist church in Holmes street. The Rev. J. H. Buckingham, D. D., presided and the Rev. James Ley was chosen temporary secretary in the absence of Secretary Charles Prosser. The following officers were elected: The Rev. C. H. Higginson, Mahoney City, president; the Rev. James Moore, Avoca, Pa., vice president; the Rev. Thomas Cook, Plymouth, recording secretary; the Rev. W. C. Hall, Morris Run, assistant recording secretary, and the Rev. John P. Barlow, Mt. Campbell, conference secretary.

GOOD ADVICE IN BUYING A HOME

Be Sure It Is Located Where It Will Enhance Rather Than Decline in Value.

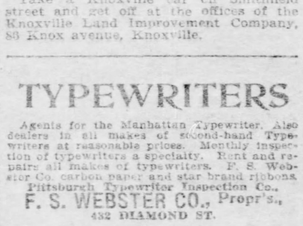
KNOXVLLE A GOOD PLACE

The Borough Is High Up Out of the Smoke and Dust and Offers Many Advantages to People Seeking Homes.

Do you own your home? Have you ever thought of buying a home of your own?

If you have thought of these matters now is the time to act. But the first and most important thing to consider is where you will buy. Take this advice: Be sure that your home will be in a locality where property values are likely to increase rather than decrease. Be sure that it will be sufficiently accessible to the city as to find a ready buyer should you ever desire to sell.

The advantage of buying a home in Knoxville is that it is so close to the heart of Pittsburgh that as long as there is a city you will always find a ready purchaser. And property in this borough will increase in value every year.



A Little Over $25 a Month Buys This Attractive Home.

The Knoxville Land Improvement Company has a number of first class new dwellings for sale in Knoxville. You would not make a mistake should you purchase one of these homes for an investment even if you have a home of your own.

These houses are modern in every way. They vary in size and price and were erected for people in moderate circumstances. They have all the up-to-date improvements and Knoxville has all the conveniences to make a home in this borough ideal.

It will take you just 15 minutes to reach Knoxville from Smithfield street, Pittsburgh, and it would pay you to go up and see what a pretty place it is. The streets are well shaded and paved. The town has electric lights, gas, water, churches, schools, stores, banks, library, police and fire protection—in fact, all the conveniences of the city. The taxes are low.

It is only necessary to make a small first payment. The remainder may be paid in small monthly installments, no larger probably, than the rental you are paying now.

By this easy payment plan of buying a home you own your home really before you are aware of it. You are just that much ahead, whereas, if you keep on renting you may never have anything to show for it.

It will pay you to investigate this easy payment plan at any rate. You will find that it is the most inviting, the most sensible proposition that has ever been submitted to you. Your monthly payments become less and less each year.

As real estate is constantly advancing in and about Pittsburgh, no sane person would advise you to delay action for one day if you contemplate ever buying a home of your own.

Take Knoxville car on Smithfield street and get off at the offices of the Knoxville Land Improvement Company, 89 Knox avenue, Knoxville.

NOTED CERAMIC EXPERT LECTURES THIS EVENING IN "TECH" COURSE

Prof. Charles F. Binns Will Speak at Carnegie Music Hall on the Work of the Expert.

CHOSEN ARCHITECTS COMING

Prof. Charles F. Binns.

Prof. Charles F. Binns, director of the New York State School of Ceramics at Alfred university, Alfred, N. Y., will lecture this evening in the Carnegie Technical schools course at Carnegie Music hall, Pittsburgh, on "Ceramics." Prof. Binns is probably the best known teacher and writer on ceramics in the country and his lecture will be illustrated with stereopticon views. The slides are made from photographs collected in Europe and America from museums and private galleries.

Prof. Binns was born in Worcester, England, in 1857, where his father was director of the Royal Worcester porcelain works. In those works he started as a young man to study pottery. In 1885 he went to London to take charge of the wholesale office of the Worcester company. In 1894 he returned to the works, and remained there for four years as superintendent of the day department. In 1897 he severed a connection of 25 years with the Worcester works to come to America and engage in expert pottery work here. Before he had been here a week he was invited to take charge of the new technical and art school at Trenton, N. J., and he remained at that school until he was offered, and accepted, the position of director of the New York State School of Ceramics.

Prof. Binns was a charter member of the American Ceramic society and has served as both a vice president and president. "The Story of the Potter," "Ceramic Technology," various articles for technical journals and the ceramic articles in the new "Encyclopedia Americana" are among his best-known contributions to the literature of city-working.

Prof. Binns has just completed two exhibits for the St. Louis fair, a collection of building materials produced in New York and a display of artistic pottery made by students in the school of which he is the head.

The five architects who have been chosen to prepare plans for the technical schools are to meet in Pittsburgh Saturday. Prof. Warren P. Laird, consulting architect, will also be here and will go over, with them, the architectural program and show them the site. The director has received applications now from about 20 other architects who wish to enter the competition.

The Carnegie Institute board's committee on technical schools will meet Monday afternoon. This will be the first meeting with the new members, the changes being due to the recent councilmanic election in this city. The new members are John F. Steel and John G. Holmes, the bankers, and Charles L. Taylor, president of the Carnegie Hero Fund commission.

RUMOR OF DEAL FLATLY DENIED

President Reed Says Philadelphia Company Has Not Bought New Franchises.

ANNUAL MEETING ON MONDAY

It was stated positively last evening that at a meeting yesterday in New York, attended by T. Hart Given and some others of the Verner traction syndicate and representatives of the Philadelphia Company interests, the Verner syndicate traction franchises granted by Pittsburgh councils had been sold to the Philadelphia Company on the basis of the "cost of securing."

President J. H. Reed of the Philadelphia Company denied the report absolutely. "There is no one in New York authorized to conduct such business for the Philadelphia Company," he said. "I understand that Mr. Given went to New York on totally different business. Mr. McMullin was in Pittsburgh today, so that he could not have figured in the deal there."

Judge Reed was asked then if any deal of any kind between the two companies had been arranged. He said that so far nothing had been accomplished, although the two parties were no longer engaged in calling each other bad names. "The case may have to go into the courts," he said. "At least, no one can say yet what will be done. It is not our first move in any event."

The annual meeting of the Philadelphia Company is to be held next Monday. As already announced, Messrs. Given and McMullin have presented their resignations as directors. What action the stockholders will take in regard to re-electing them cannot yet be forecasted. The control of the company has within a year passed to the eastern interests and their actions are not to be told in advance from Pittsburgh. It is not considered probable, however, that the two will be elected to the board. It is not even known if Pittsburghers will be elected to the vacant places.

For the gas interests the report to be presented to the stockholders will show the best year in the history of the company, both gross and net earnings reaching a higher point than ever before. The traction interests practically held their own with last year's record. The year would have been a record-breaker for these interests also, if the bad weather had not interferred with the outing business. The general stringency was reflected in the earnings of the last three months of the year.

POLICE WARRING UPON SIDEWALK BOOKMAKERS

One Is Arrested and the Authorities Claim to Have Evidence Against Him.

Sidewalk bookmakers must go, is the dictum of Director Harry Moore.

Special Officers Dillon and Dunn yesterday arrested E. Mundy of Wilkinsburg for making book on the New York races, at Third avenue and Smithfield street. He was released on bail for a hearing this morning.

Mundy has been making books on the streets for some time. Yesterday he sold Dillon a ticket on Irish Jewel, entered in the third race at the Aqueduct track, New York. After the officer placed his money on the horse he put Mundy under arrest. While "sidewalk bookmakers" have been arrested before, the police never obtained sufficient evidence against them to hold them for court. Dillon, however, secured direct evidence against Mundy, and Director Moore is determined that he be held for court.

The police have received a number of complaints about sidewalk bookmakers. There are about a half a dozen of them operating in the downtown streets.

LOWER PRICES AT LAST.

Greenstuff Arrives in Big Quantities and Brings Joy to Thousands.

New vegetables are now coming into Pittsburgh in big quantities. The arrivals of the last two days have exceeded all expectations, and the result has been lower prices that have been looked forward to by sellers and buyers for several weeks. The quality of the new crops is up to the usual standard and the displays in Liberty avenue and other wholesale market streets yesterday were more tempting than for many a day.

Interest is centered in lower prices rather than the appearance of stock. Quotations are much lower on beets, lettuce, celery, onions, strawberries, squash, tomatoes, carrots and other articles. Old potatoes are still selling as high as $1.15 a bushel, but the new stock is getting cheaper every day. Prompt arrivals of southern crops of all kinds and plenty of them, together with improved railroad facilities, has prevented any possibility of anything like a famine in any of the root products, everywhere looked upon as necessaries of life.

WILL DISCUSS THE BOND ISSUE

Civic League Elects New Executive Committee and Broadens Its Field.

BIGELOW IS HOME FROM EAST

The Voters' Civic league of Allegheny county reorganized yesterday for the year. It will probably take a part in the movement for the filtration and "hump" bond issues, as the organization has decided that it will not limit its field to the discussion of candidates.

At the meeting yesterday the executive committee for the year was chosen. The members elected are: S. W. Childs, H. D. W. English, A. Lee Weil, the Rev. Dr. D. H. Geissinger, George H. Wallace, Edwin Z. Smith, J. Ramsey Speer, J. W. Marsh, C. G. Carter and Theodore J. Shaffer. The last three are new members. The executive committee elects the officers and it is likely that S. W. Childs will be re-elected president.

Thomas S. Bigelow returned yesterday from his eastern trip. He says that he wants to have A. Harvey Harrison of the Twenty-first ward appointed attorney for the state in the matter of the collection of delinquent mercantile taxes. This appointment will come through Auditor General W. P. Snyder, who will begin his duties on Monday. Bigelow is also hopeful of getting some other appointments. It is possible that the regular Republicans will be considered in the distribution of the places.

In discussing the appointment of a superintendent of police, Bigelow said that it was hard to get the right man at a salary of $3,000, owing to the criticism "to which the official is often subjected."

"Many stories were told about McTighe," said he, "but I do not believe that they were true. The mayor always refused to pay attention to these tales and for that reason I think McTighe was ungrateful in his treatment of Hays."

The fact that Controller John B. Larkin and Director E. M. Bigelow held two conferences in one day is exciting comment. Both say that they are still able to confer peaceably on public business, even if they cannot agree.

New Window Glass Union Thriving.

The 8 Hour Day

Which the working man has fought for and succeeded in obtaining is something the wife has no share in. Her day begins before his and ends long after it, as a rule, and many a night her rest is broken by the baby's fretfulness. The healthiest woman must wear out under such a strain. What can be expected then of those women who are weakened by womanly diseases?

Women who are weak, worn-out and run-down will find new life and new strength in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

$500 REWARD! FOR WOMEN WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"I suffered with female weakness about eight years—tried several doctors but derived no benefit until I began using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. John Green, of Danville, Boyle Co., Ky. "This medicine was recommended to me by other patients. I have taken six bottles and I feel like another person."

Refuse all substitutes.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

To Our Customers:—

In view of the fact that for some reason unknown to us reports have been widely circulated to the effect that we have sold, or were about to sell, our business to other parties, we state positively that such reports are absolutely false and without foundation.

We have not sold out, we do not intend to sell out, and the present management will continue. Ordinarily we would not dignify by denial any such report, but we believe that this has been maliciously spread abroad and therefore requires an explicit denial from us.

Respectfully,

JOSEPH HORNE CO.,

Handsome Dresses and Blouses From Paris.

Dresses in Veiling, Dotted Swiss and India Silk from $25.00 Up.

Tailored Suits in Mixtures at $25.00.

Waists, or, as the French say, Blouses, in Taffeta and other silks from $10.00 Up.

Via S.S. Philadelphia, American Line, we have just received a shipment of these fine, Paris-made garments, recently selected, and represented by only one of each model.

Both the dresses and the waists are the best specimens of recent productions of the French designers.

In addition to the above we offer from the same invoice about fifteen short wraps made of cloth, shown in light shades, without lining and modestly trimmed. Large flowing cape sleeves, or rather a coat body with very large kimono sleeve, much after the Russian officers' model. These are well adapted for use over light gowns for veranda or beach wear. The quantity is limited and there will be no more to offer. The price of $25.00 makes them a very inviting purchase.

New Skirts of Panama and Voile.

Panama cloth is a relative of voile, but it is not quite so sheer, neither is it possessed of that filmy appearance. However, it is a delightful summer fabric and is full of that dressiness admired by all women. Herewith we present several numbers, both in Panama cloth and in voile:

The Skirts of Voile.

At $10.00 each, seven-gore lap seam Walking Skirts, side gores, four pleats, finished with tailor straps and buttons at flare. Blue or black.

At $12.50, seven-gore lap seam Walking Skirts, three clusters of pleats down each gore, inverted pleat back. Blue and black.

At $20.00, the handsomest of voile Walking Skirts in blue or black, ever seen for the money. Choice is from either box or side pleat, and either style runs from waist to bottom of skirt.

The Skirts of Panama.

At $10.00, Walking Skirts either blue or black, seven gores, knee pleat flare, tucked yoke. This skirt has tailor-stitched belt.

At $12.00, Walking Skirts in black only. Seven gores, box pleated, tailor-stitched belt.

Porch Shades.

Whatever you do don't buy bamboo shades. They have come to be looked upon as utterly of no account. We have tabooed them this year, and really we are sorry we ever did keep them. Vudor Porch Shades or the new Tusculum Porch Shades are ever so much better and altogether satisfactory.

We have in stock ready to deliver, and you might as well leave your order now and be ready for the hot weather when it gets here, Vudor Porch Shades in two colors, dark green and olive mottled effects. we have them in four sizes: 4 feet wide, 8-foot drop, $2.00; 6 feet wide, 8-foot drop, $2.50; 8 feet wide, 8-foot drop, $3.75; 10 feet wide, 8-foot drop, $5.00. We make a small charge for putting these up, but anyone with the least knack can put them up easily enough.

Imported Tusculum Porch Shades, made of grooved slats, well seasoned and oiled, a perfect shade in every respect. Four sizes. All with 8-foot drop in the following widths: 8 feet wide, $3.75; 8 feet wide, $5.00; 10 feet wide, $6.75; 12 feet wide, $8.00.

If you prefer the Baltimore Slat Awnings, which are nothing more than the old-fashioned Venetian blinds, we will be pleased to give you estimates. They are not at all costly.

For cloth awnings, which we make to order to fit any size window or porch, we will also be pleased to give you an estimate. A postal or telephone call will bring our representative to your home.

Our Collection of Mattings.

We are selling many more mattings this season than in any previous year. There is such a thing as knowing exactly where to find right styles and right colors. Our mattings, whether they be from China or Japan, are all fresh, and our prices are the lowest for high-grade mattings. All mattings have full forty yards to the roll.

We have splendid Japanese Mattings in various color combinations at $9.00 a roll.

We have the heavier China Mattings at $10.00 a roll.

But for something delightfully neat we commend our Mikado Matting, made of best rice straw, the designs being exquisite bunches of roses. We sell this for only $20.00 a roll.

New Belts From Paris.

We ask the attention of women as early as possible to a number of new model belts just received from Paris. These represent the very newest belt ideas known in that world's fashion center.

They are priced at $7.50 and $10.00 apiece.

Along with the belts came some pretty Parisian jewelry, exclusive novelties in Hat Pins, Clasps, Bodice Pins and Belt Pins, together with a superb collection of French Fans for wedding and graduating gifts, all moderately priced.

Oriental Rugs $15.00, Were $32.00

This is an Oriental bargain of the very best sort, and should have the attention of persons who have longed to own a rug from the far East but thought prices were too great. We have about thirty Persian Rugs, the average size running 8x4 feet, and they will be found very acceptable for hall or in front of fire place. They can even be used for an office.

These rugs have sold for as high as $32.00, and today we offer them for $15.00 each.

We also have some splendid room sized Arlington Rugs, in delicate shades of old rose and pink. The size is 12 feet by 9 feet. We have sold them all along for $40.00, but today reduce the price to, each..... $30.00

Whatever kind of a rug you have in mind, please jot down in your memory that we have it—undoubtedly the largest and finest collection of domestic and imported rugs to be found in the city. Of course we are speaking of good rugs—there are no trashy rugs here. We wouldn't traffic in them under any consideration.

The Vogue—Blue With Green Bar.

There's a color combination to accomplish which the shades have to be just so, otherwise it would border on the ludicrous. It is the most modish combination of the day.

We are showing this splendid effect in TAILOR CHECK MOHAIRS, which are assured of the ready attention of correct dressers. These mohairs are 44 inches wide, and our price is only 90c a yard.

Imported Mohairs with white grounds, shotted with either red, delft blue or black. Very smart for individual waists and summer outing suits in walking styles. We have these white ground mohairs exclusively for Greater Pittsburgh. 75c a yard.

Chiffon Voile from Paris, something dressy that will command the attention of all women not only as a dressy fabric, but also for its lowness of price. Shown in navy, marine, delft, sky blue, leaf green, brown, tan, castor, red, cream, white and black. And the price is 68c a yard.

Utility Boxes.

The very name is suggestive of capacious space for waists in particular, and the many other articles of woman's wear. Every girl likes them, especially when going away to school, and to the housekeeper they are indeed a treasure.

Besides the ordinary size we have what is called a skirt box, covered with matting and trimmed with bamboo. The matting is superior to cretonne in that the covering does not have to be replaced every six months.

These boxes come in seven sizes, priced as follows: $2.75, $4.00, $4.75, $5.00, $6.00, $7.00 and up to $8.00 for the skirt size, which is supplied with casters for moving it about from place to place. In fourth floor, West.

Screens, Practical and Decorative.

We have fire screens made of matting and trimmed with bamboo. These are practical for changeable weather, when one day a fire is a necessity, and the next it is out of all question. Too early yet to close up the fire place entirely, but one of these screens fit in nicely. The prices are very easy, $2.50, $3.00 and $3.75.

In three and four-fold screens our assortment is of the widest—medium as well as regular height.

$1.00, $1.25, $4.50, $6.00, $7.00 each.

If you are interested in screens, go to the fourth floor, West.

Re-Caning Furniture.

Simply a notice that we are ready to re-cane those chairs that had the seats knocked out of them last Summer, to put new seats and backs in porch rockers, to re-cane settees—in fact, to do any re-caning that you may wish done.

Telephone us or send postal and our wagon will call for the articles. We'll do the work promptly and not charge you much for it.

It is reported to be the desire of the sultan of Turkey to have a navy and he is so pleased with his small cruiser "made in America" that he wants all of his sea fighters of American pattern. In this connection there are conjectures that Abdul has been noting the news reports from Port Arthur and has come to the conclusion that a Russian navy is not such a terrible thing after all. The rumor that he is bluffing to discourage the departure of the Black sea fleet for the far east is hardly credible except upon the assumption that he deems it possible to have some of his navy built before that fleet can return—if it ever does—and certainly before Russia can build another to replace it. Abdul has his moments of shrewdness, and the Japanese treatment of the Russian navy is not lost upon him. Neither is the excellence of American workmanship.

Tomorrow will see the opening of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in St. Louis, and the success of the occasion depends much on the state of the weather, which does not now promise to be auspicious. To be sure, rain cannot dampen the ardor of the average Missourian, who is very much accustomed to that sort of thing, though even he is susceptible to flood water, but there is a prospect that friendly nature will smile in sunshine upon the efforts of our friends on the banks of the father of waters. After the opening day will come long weeks and months during which we may all visit the fair and study the growth of the world in material and artistic greatness. Those who visited the Chicago and Buffalo fairs will have an opportunity to study the contrast, not necessarily in outward appearances, but in genuine developments of ideas in industrial, commercial and artistic lines. The St. Louis fair promises to eclipse all its predecessors, and well it should in this day of rapid advancement.

F. W. Jones, second officer on the United States army transport Sherman, in leaving the service makes some very serious charges, accusations that are certainly worthy of close investigation. During the past 12 months, Mr. Jones says, seven transports have been run ashore, and he charges that these accidents, or some of them, are the result of gross carelessness and even intoxication among the officers. Inasmuch as Mr. Jones leaves the service with a clean record and with letters of commendation from some of his superiors, his allegations should be thoroughly investigated, even though they are not made officially, but in a letter to Major Devol, division superintendent of the service. Mr. Jones gives instances in point, so it would not be difficult to learn the full truth. It might be found advantageous to put the transport service, or at least the navigation of the transports, under the strict control and strict discipline of the navy. At least that would be the quickest remedy at hand, should the charges made by Mr. Jones be substantiated.

An official report from St. Petersburg on the sluking of the Japanese transport Kin-Shiu-Maru by a Russian torpedo boat says that of 387 men on the transport when it was captured, 260 refused to surrender and offered armed resistance, and were therefore sunk with their ship. It was a useless, though heroic sacrifice of life, but it has the virtue of showing the Russians the sort of people against whom they are fighting. The patriotism of the Japanese is almost fanatical, and that more than 50 per cent of those on board the captured transport in this instance preferred death to surrender proves that no ordinary battles need be expected when the real clash comes. The soldiers of Japan are not only trained to fight as long as their officers lead them, but their natural patriotism leads them into the jaws of death even when the officers see the futility of further resistance. With two armies given equal forces, the one imbued with the sort of patriotism that has been instilled into the hearts of the Japanese has the greater chance of success.

The committee in charge has set Saturday, June 11, as the date for the unveiling of the monument to the memory of Col. Alexander L. Hawkins. This event will not only serve to recall to our minds that Col. Hawkins was a brave soldier and true patriot, but also that Pittsburgh has been very successful in securing genuine works of art by genuine masters. The Hawkins monument is only one of many fine samples of the sculptor's art that are to abide forever in Pittsburgh, and we have none of the abortive efforts such as are to be seen in many other large cities in America. New York, for instance, has a large number of statues that are eye-sores rather than added beauty to the city, and Chicago, too, is so burdened. Pittsburgh has not so many, but as all are genuine works of art, we are more fortunate than either of our large and more populous rivals. And this city is now, and has been for years, recognized as one of the most discriminating art centers of the country. It is better that we have a reputation for the excellence of our art than for its quantity. That will come later.

By the decision of Judge Marcus W. Acheson of the United States court, Private Dowd and Lieut. Drury are remanded to the Allegheny county jail for trial in the civil courts. The case will be appealed to the supreme court of the United States and will become a cause celebre, a precedent for all future time. Without wishing to anticipate the judgment of the supreme court, the decision of Judge Acheson must be regarded as good law, at least until that higher opinion is rendered. It is equally good sense, since martial law did not prevail where and when the shooting was done. It is but fair that in times of peace the civil authority should be supreme. It should be remembered, however, that this decision, if sustained, does not mean that Private Dowd, or Lieut. Drury, is guilty as indicted. It simply means they are to be given a fair trial in the county courts and dealt with according to the facts, due allowance being given to whatever provocation there may have been for the shooting. In other words, it puts them upon precisely the same plane as policemen who use their discretion and firearms on duty. It will not afford a precedent for any case under martial law such as that of Private Wadsworth during the anthracite strike, or the much discussed cases in Colorado.

Make Haste Slowly.

In view of the special meeting of common council this evening which is expected to pass finally the ordinances authorizing issues of bonds for filtration and the reduction of the hump, it is pertinent to suggest again that some guarantee should be given that the South Side is to participate fully in the distribution of pure water and that the alteration of hump grades will not exceed the large sum asked from the general public for an improvement which is of direct benefit to one small section of the city only. It is also pertinent to urge councils not to neglect a feasible opportunity to reduce the cost of filtration before passing the ordinance to the risk of defeat at the polls on the plea of extravagance of the estimates.

An examination of the contract the city has with the Monongahela Water Company makes it apparent that relief for the South Side must come through the purchase of that company's plant. The contract recognizes the act of assembly of April, 1855, as valid and that act provides for the continuance of the company for a term of 40 years and afterward until its earnings in excess of 12 per centum per annum, net, are sufficient to pay for the property. We understand there is no sinking fund applicable to this purpose. Under the contract of 1885 the purchase may be made in 1906, or any year thereafter, the appraised valuation to be paid in five equal annual installments. It is, therefore, not necessary to provide for immediate purchase, but the South Side is within its rights in demanding that before the large issue of pure water bonds is made there shall be a binding guarantee that the wards in that portion of the city shall be supplied with filtered water when the filtration plant is completed. Unless such guarantee is given there will be danger of the defeat of the entire and necessary filtration project at the polls.

Filtration is necessary. It is the logical and effective way to secure pure water for all time. The public welfare demands that it shall be established soon, and it should have been established years ago at much less cost. But after delays that are little short of criminal there need be no such hurry now as to neglect economic considerations, such as may jeopard success at the polls and cause another indefinite delay. The ancient Latins had a proverb that it is best to "make haste slowly" and this applies to the great public works under consideration. It is the duty of councils to make sure that necessary cost is amply covered and no more; that the metering of the service shall be begun at once and that all parts of the city shall share in benefits provided at the common expense.

Value of Battleships.

A discussion of the value of battleships has been started by the disasters to the Russian navy at Port Arthur, which reached the United States senate a few days ago and is raging in the European and American periodical press. It is argued that because Russia's great floating fortresses have been put out of commission by Japanese torpedoes and floating mines, not to mention accidents from their own mines, it is folly to invest millions in battleships and large cruisers. The argument includes the possible destructiveness of the new submarine craft. One of these cheap divers, it is represented, may get under and blow the largest battleship out of water.

All of these arguments overlook vital points. They are interesting as suggestions of possibilities, but should not weigh a straw against going ahead with the construction of cruisers and battleships, though they may well operate to obtain an increase in torpedo boats, destroyers and submarines. The first vital consideration is that the modern warship is a machine which demands for its successful operation a high degree of engineering skill. Admiral Makaroff was a technician of high order. Others of the Russian naval officers may be good engineers. But Russia is not a country of engineers. It is sadly deficient in engineering ability and in the education of its common people essential to right understanding of how machinery should be handled. The Japanese, on the other hand, are skillful mechanics and engineers and the naval results at Port Arthur are due to the quality of the men on either side rather than that of their machines.

In our war with Spain the battleship and cruiser were so successful that torpedo warfare was relegated to a place of secondary importance by all nations save Japan, which had demonstrated its value in the war with China. France and the United States turned attention to submarine torpedo boats and Great Britain later took up that line. The American navy embodies the highest development of engineering skill and knowledge and if it is ever again called upon to cope with a great sea power its battleships and cruisers will give a good account of themselves. They will not be found an easy prey to torpedo attack and they will not be found blundering upon their own or the enemy's mines. By all means let us have torpedo boats, particularly submarine and small, swift launches. They are good coast defenders and good for attack when near the enemy. But let us also have our giant battleships and cruisers to convey and convoy the small craft to the scene of action, ready at all times to meet the enemy in the open and smother him with rapid and accurate firing.

A Business Session.

The second session of the Fifty-eighth congress of the United States has been completed. It is one of the shortest of "long" sessions and compares very favorably with its immediate predecessors. It was left for this session to complete the Cuban reciprocity legislation begun by the first (extra) session, and with the accomplishment of that there has been less of the senatorial "hold-up" in evidence than for several years past.

Of course, the most important works of the session has been the ratification of the canal treaty with Panama and the enactment of legislation necessary to prompt construction of the canal. There was some delay in effecting this, due principally to Senator Morgan's inordinate desire to go on record as a blatherskite, but it did not reach the dignity of a hold-up. The final compromise in conference on the government bill, by which the house provision for payment of the $10,000,000 bonus to Panama was adopted with the senate provision that the government of the canal zone should be left to the president, was a happy solution of possible difficulties.

For the remainder, the work of the session was mainly the enactment of appropriation bills. The greater part of these are commendable. They may contain a few minor extravagances, but the main purposes of them have been well considered. A more liberal policy on rivers and harbors could have been indorsed, though no serious complaint will be lodged against the severe economy in this line, for the time being, that in part compensates for the large expenditures for the Panama canal. But there ought to be in the years to come a broad-minded policy pursued for the comprehensive improvement of our internal waterways. Every American is proud of the splendid lake system and its enormous traffic. There are equal possibilities in the river system once it is completed.

All in all the session will go into history as one that transacted its business promptly and adjourned when it had begun to run into stump oratory.

Judge Reagan of Texas has written Col. Bryan a letter in which he says he agrees with the silverites, but advises him to go away back and be seated. It is time for someone else to get a chance at the Democratic lime light.

An insurance company that has to be sued for the insurance on the life of Selwyn M. Taylor evidently thinks that heroism, as well as virtue, is its own reward. Still "own" should not be read "only."

The circus is coming, housecleaning is on,
Two signs that are always together;
Baseball is on tap; every evidence cries
That it's spring—excepting the weather.

The spectacle of Bourke Cockran being made an idol by the Democrats in congress must give the Bryanites the cold shivers in view of that statesman's position in 1896.

The Cuban game of jai alai will be a feature of the St. Louis Pike. Visiting statesmen are reminded of Rathbone and cautioned to stay away from that feature.

Rivermen are profiting from the rainy weather by sending coal south. Too bad we cannot all be rivermen so we could properly appreciate the weather.

"Teddy" McGovern's $50,000 didn't buy the house in which President McKinley died. Every once in awhile Buffalo does a really handsome thing.

Mr. Bryan will be finally driven to the necessity of making his own platform. He is certain in that case of one vote of approval.

The Hon. Charley Towne has broken into print again. Now when Don Dickinson catches up the procession may move on.

Without a congress on his hands the president may now devote some time to getting in touch with national affairs.

Congress made quite a breezy finish after all, thanks to the irrepressible talking habits of the Hon. Bourke Cockran.

If St. Louis can keep the Mississippi river out of her backyard tomorrow she will pull off a great fair opening.

The first wager has been placed on the Jeffries-Munroe fight. Now watch for the gabfest.

The Washington baseball team will now get a showing at home—congress is out of the way.

The Quiet Observer

ERASMUS WILSON.

There is the American girl for instance.

In what does she differ from the the girl hailing from any other country?

We hear a lot of talk about her, and there is lots of poetry and lots of other reading about her. But after all is said we find that she is simply a girl whose health, beauty and intelligence is the reasonable product of her breeding and environment.

The same is true of the girl of any country or of any local section.

Send a well-born babe down into the backwoods of North Carolina and a score of years hence it will be a regular "tar heel" with possibly a slight difference, for its breeding may tell, but not a whole lot.

Send a typical "tar heel" baby up to Tuxedo and it will grow into a York state swell, with a few "tar heel" characteristics. If the swell is great enough these characteristics will be admitted as the proper caper and in good form.

So it makes comparatively little difference where a girl is born, but it does make a great difference—all the difference in the world—where she is educated and by whom and for what purpose.

The woman or the man who is educated without a definite purpose is educated to no purpose. Such persons must necessarily form a purpose later and then adapt their education to it.

For some reason, or for none at all, maybe, the American girl, as a rule, is educated to no purpose.

* * * * *

In what does the American girl differ from the other girl? What more does she claim than the other girl? Is she better or is she worse? Does she make a better wife and mother than the English, German or Irish girl?

Before we can fully and finally decide the question of superiority we will have to either discover or establish a standard by which to determine who is who.

Who among you regards herself as a standard by which others may or ought to be measured?

If you think yourself about right, what are your accomplishments and what is your purpose in life?

Who among you—any or all of you—know a standard American girl?

If you know her, won't you be kind enough to tell us why you set her up as a standard. A writeup, or photograph, or both will be acceptable as aids to a clear comprehension of this important standard.

And it is an important standard, too, since woman is one of the most important factors in the problem of civilization. Travelers everywhere judge the degree of civilization of a country by the state and condition of its women.

When you have found a standard woman you have something reliable and trusty by which to measure and estimate the civilization of any country or any people.

* * * * *

The American girl, as a distinct product of our civilization, is hard to describe or even to locate, since this is such a big country, with such a diversity of interest and such great variety of people.

You may recall the difficulty that was encountered by the Chicago world's fair commissioners when they undertook to select a typical American woman to serve as a model for a life-size silver statue which was to form one of the Arizona exhibits.

The southern lady did not suit the north, the eastern representative objected to the western standards, and so it went until almost every individual state had a candidate who was held to be a typical American woman, or rather, who was the typical American woman—typical in point of beauty, style and intelligence.

Finally the commissioners selected Adah Rhean, the actress, and then such a loud, long howl went up that it has hardly got down yet. People said she wasn't the typical American, and some declared she wasn't American at all, but Irish. The culture set waxed wrath, the religious element protested, and so it went until it was announced that it was not intended to represent the typical American woman, but simply a standard type of American beauty.

So you may readily see what an impossible task it would be to select a typical American girl who would be acceptable to even a majority of the people.

* * * * *

The American girl differs from the girl of the other nations according as her blood and environment differs from theirs.

The chief distinguishing difference is, perhaps, her free and easy manner. She gets this from the freedom and independence that prevails in her environment. Her staid and very correct English cousins think her rowdyish to the verge of vulgarity, although at home she is of the best form.

Whether her greater freedom and liberty has spoiled her more than the narrowly prescribed lines within which the other is reared spoiled her, is one of those questions that cannot be satisfactorily answered.

That some American girls do take advantage of the boasted freedom and independence of this country none will deny. On the western plains she rides the broncho, herds cattle and drives coaches, all of which would be intolerable on the plains of Boston.

In the semi-tropical south she lounges and drawls and puts in the time with as little exertion as possible. North of the snow line she would be accounted lazy and doless.

And thus it goes, each and every section having a different ideal and in none are the ideals sufficiently definite to permit of their being limned on canvas or chisled in marble. Nor can these be merged into a single composite ideal.

* * * * *

The American girl certainly has abundant opportunity to develop into the ideal woman of the age and it is not improbable that she may do so, but this will hardly occur during the present century. This, however, should not cause us to lose interest in the matter.

On the contrary, it should be an incentive to us to strive to approach, as nearly as possible, our own personal ideals, for the coming ideal will be the sum of all that is best in all ideals that have existed.

There are those who think not of the coming woman and care not what she will be like, since they will not be here to see her.

This is not only a selfish view of a most important matter, but it is disloyalty of the worst sort. Those who take such views are not only disloyal to themselves and to their posterity, but to their Creator. They fail to understand why they exist and never realize the fact that they are being used in building for the future.

It is clearly the duty of every American girl to form in her mind and heart an ideal woman and live to, or toward it, and to transmit it by holding it up to the children whom it is her privilege to teach and instruct, whether her own or not.

Poets rave over the American girl, the funny fellows make her ridiculous, while the playwright exhibits her as an improbable, if not an impossible being.

About the fact of the matter is that you know the real American girl, or at least you know what she is like.

Talked of in Gotham

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 28.—There is nothing more painful to either a man or a city aspiring to be thought "sporty" than to be told that he or it is not so very wicked, after all. A wealthy business man of Chicago is quoted in a published interview as saying that New York is "more of a Sunday school preparatory academy than the home and roosting place of argus-eyed vice." The blow is maddening to some of the rounders—or bounders—who loaf up and down Broadway, or wriggle in and out of the by-ways of the under-Tenderloin every night. They have been laboring under the idea that they are real devilish and that New York is an awful place, whose "rep" it is the duty of all thoroughbreds to upheave at every opportunity. Yet, this iconoclastic Chicagoan has the assurance to say further, in the course of his interview:

"You are not wicked in New York. You are not even funny any more. Time was when a gentleman, worn out with the physical exertions of attaining wealth, could come to New York and seek some real exhilaration; but that time has gone by, and it is getting further away every year. When I get held up here in New York I feel ashamed of myself and want to go away and hide."

On the other hand, this Chicago man, in his insolent civic pride, tells of the brimstone atmosphere of his own town, and intimates that if you want sin hot from the griddle you must go to Chicago to find it. There will be a storm of denials from born and bred New Yorkers, of course, because it touches them on a tender spot when you remind them that a common expression of sojourners in Gotham is that it is a distinctly "rube" town, in spite of its bigness. Still, the metropolis need not despair altogether, for there are other qualities besides flaunting vice which make a city great, and New York well holds its own with the famous centers of civilization, even if it is not wicked enough to impress a blase Chicagoan.

Anything to See the Ponies Run.

It takes an enthusiast to enjoy a horse race in a pelting rain. There are many such enthusiasts in New York. They went to Jamaica yesterday and again today, and when the "mud-waders" splashed over the course in each race, the proceedings were watched by thousands of men and women in raincoats who would be overcome with horror if they had to stand in Broadway for 30 seconds in such weather.

Carnegie's Friend, Although an Architect.

Here is a new Andrew Carnegie story current along Broadway: Mr. Carnegie gave the money for a library building to a city in the south a few months ago—one of the hundreds that he bestows every year. The design selected by a local committee was sent to him for his approval. In the absence of anything better, he advised the committee to go ahead and build their library on that plan. Then he sent a portrait of himself to the architect, with this autographed inscription: "To ——— our architect, but still our friend."

A Crusty Old Practice.

It having been decided by the court of appeals that the marriage of a school teacher is not a crime against the board of education, the latter astute body has accepted the situation and given official permission to any school teacher to marry if she desires to do so. It is assumed, and justly, that any of the charming young women in New York's public schools can be married if they choose. The repeal of a foolish by-law making any school teacher taking a husband liable to charges which would almost certainly result in her dismissal is looked on as one of the best bits of legislation by the board of education in years. Coincident with the repeal, one teacher who was dismissed for matrimony will be reinstated, and charges which had begun against another have been dropped. The anti-matrimony regulation was a crusty old practice, with longer vitality than might have been expected.

Not Like the Old Dutch.

There is considerable difference in the appearance of many of the Hollanders who come into New York nowadays from those of Holland birth who have lived boreabouts for a century or so. The good ship Amsterdam, from Rotterdam, came sailing up the harbor through the rain and fog this morning with a cargo of immigrants aboard. The men and women crowded on the decks to get their first view of New York were of the ordinary Scandinavian type, which one sees on most of the immigrant steamers from the continent of Europe. The stolid countenances, brightened to some extent by curiosity, the women without hats or bonnets, and the men with the peaks of their Dutch caps pulled well down over their eyes, all suggested strangers in a strange land. It is probable that the ancestors of the Astors, Vanderbilts and Roosevelts may have looked something like these arrivals of today at some distant time, although it is difficult to imagine such a possibility.

New Use for Applejack.

It has remained for a Jerseyman to discover that applejack, applied externally, is an antidote for hydrophobic poison. Mr. Freye, the discoverer, was bitten on the finger by a yellow dog who was evidently mad on Sunday last. He bathed the finger in applejack for some time and then hustled over to the Pasteur institute in this city. The doctors there told him that it did not seem as if any more treatment would be necessary. If applejack possesses the antitoxin qualities that this would indicate, there should be a boom in the manufacture of this famous Jersey product.

Have "Forgotten How to Dine."

One of the famous old table d'hote places of New York was Solari's at the corner of Eleventh street and University place. I say "was" for Solari's is practically no more. Its shutters will be put up forever on Saturday night, and a great office building will be erected on the site of the ancient house wherein bon vivants have dined for 45 years. There were three Solari brothers originally. Only one survives—Joseph, a man who took a pride in his calling and who is known to hundreds of Pittsburghers today.

Joseph was sad this morning as he sat in the rear of his dining room, at the end of a vista of empty chairs and small black-legged, white-clothed tables. "The city has forgotten how to dine," he moaned. "The generation of today only eats. Its demeanor toward a bottle of rare chateau wine is sacrilegious; its attitude toward terrapin a crime; its treatment of a canvas-back duck a profanation. It is too much for one who has lived when dining was a ceremony." And as Joseph bowed his silvered head, one could not doubt that he spoke the bitter truth as to his own feeling, at all events.

The Nation's Capital

L. W. STRAYER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The early adjournment of this session of congress was hailed with satisfaction by a large majority of the members of the house of representatives and probably by nearly as large a majority of senators. For, while the Democrats on many occasions have criticised the Republicans for what they termed the undue haste with which they had advanced the day for adjournment, yet the fact remains that even these critics were as anxious as any of the others to get back to their homes and look after their political fences. This does not only apply so generally to the senators as it does to the representatives, but many of the former are to be candidates for re-election at the next session of the legislature of their states, and consequently they are particularly interested in the candidates that are now being put up for members of the legislatures. But the entire house is to be elected this fall and as a majority of the members of the present congress are candidates for re-election, they are naturally anxious to get home and look after the fight.

The speaker's gavel had not entirely fallen this afternoon in announcing the adjournment sine die of this session when some of the members grabbed their satchels and started for the railroad stations. Many left on the night trains and others will be leaving from now until a week or two hence. There are some members of congress who will remain in Washington until late in June, as they have entered their children in the public schools of the District of Columbia and do not want to take them out until the end of the term, which will be about the third week of June.

Mingled Joy and Sorrow.

While there is always a great deal of joy and good feeling at the close of a session that comes with the relief from the strain of work and constant attendance upon the meetings of congress, yet there are some heart burnings and regrets. Members are wont to feel chagrin at the defeat of some pet measure upon which they had set their hearts and which failed to come out of the great legislative grist mill. They are likely to feel disappointment upon reviewing the work of the session that has closed to realize that there was so much they had hoped to get enacted into law and which never got any further than the committee room.

This is not confined to the new members who build up air-castles that contain fame and reputation for themselves and good for their fellowmen and which are rudely shattered by the grinding processes of practical legislation. Veterans who have served in congress for years have their plans knocked sky-high and their ambitions shattered as rudely as the novices, but they have been in harness so long that the shock is not so great to them as it is to the new member who is harshly awakened. Then there are other drawbacks to the life of a congressman. He is obliged to return home and explain to his constituents why he was unable to get an appropriation for a public building at the county seat, why some river or harbor improvement was not provided for or why some political appointment went to another state. There are always critics, cruel, unreasoning critics, who seem to have an idea that their particular congressman should be omnipotent. They apparently cannot understand why he should not get all that he asks for or why the claims of his constituency should be passed by and those of another section secured recognition. All that is pleasing to his constituency he must share the credit for with the administration and with 475 other members of congress. They all helped him to get it. All that is displeasing to his constituents he must bear the blame for alone. This is one of the penalties of the legislature.

House Triumphed Over Senate.

A feature of the session that has just closed has been the triumph of the house over the senate in some of the contentions that have arisen between the two branches. As has been explained in this column on previous occasions, for many years past the senate has held the whip hand in matters of dispute and the house has been obliged to yield to the senate. This has occurred so often that it has come to be generally understood that if the two branches disagree upon a proposition, it is merely a question of time until the house bends the knee to the senate. But during this session it has been different. Upon at least two occasions where there has been an apparently irreconcilable difference between the two branches, the house has won and the senate has been obliged to recede. These instances were the rivers and harbors bill and the bill for the government of the Panama canal strip.

Amendments were placed upon the rivers and harbors bill calling for nearly 50 surveys for new projects. The house insisted that they should be taken off and the conferees went into session with the view of reaching a compromise. It was a hard fight, but the house won. Its conferees would not report back to the house a bill that carried a single survey and in the end the senate conferees were obliged to give in. This result was reached yesterday and the report was made to the house and adopted last night. But the senate conferees felt that diplomacy required them to wait and give time for the wounded feelings of senators, whose pet projects had been ignored, to recover and this they did. The report was not taken up in that branch until this morning when it was adopted.

Panama Bill Made to Suit the House.

The canal government bill was another striking instance of where the senate was beaten. After several days of learned debate, that branch passed a bill for the government of this strip of land upon which the canal is to be built. It was threshed over and amended until the senators thought it was about perfect. Then it went to the house, where it was referred to committee. When it was reported to the house it was not recognizable. All that remained of the senate's measure was the enacting clause. In place of the remainder was the bill that was passed for the government of the Louisiana purchase in 1803 and which gave the president the power to place in operation in that territory any of the laws of the United States that he thought proper. It conferred upon the executive very large powers, but it had been tried and found successful and therefore the house said it was good enough for it; that it was no doubt better to have a law that had been tested and found to give good results than to experiment with a new one that might not fill the bill.

This was not exhibiting a very great respect for the judgment of the senate, but the house passed the bill amended. Democrats cried "czar," "emperor" and like charges, but the Republicans believed that if it was safe to trust Thomas Jefferson with these large powers 100 years ago, it was equally safe to trust Theodore Roosevelt with them now. The bill went to conference and there was much speculation as to the result of that conference. Would the house insist upon this change or would it yield? It must be truthfully stated that the general opinion was that here was a point upon which the senate would have its way. It was regarded as almost inconceivable that this dignified branch of congress would submit to such a flagrant disregard of its wisdom.

Victory for Speaker Cannon.

But when the conferees made their report it was found that the house was again victorious. The bill remained as the house had passed it, the only change being the addition of an amendment re-appropriating the $10,000,000 that the United States is to pay to Panama. Certain senators had contended that the previous legislation did not contain sufficient authority for the secretary of the treasury to pay out this vast sum. This provision the house was willing to accept since it was no more than making assurance doubly sure. And in this form the senate was obliged to swallow it, though it cannot be denied that it was a bitter pill.

Which was the better measure is open to discussion and it a matter of varied opinion. The senate may have enacted the best bill; that question was not the one that interested especially those about the capitol. What they were watching carefully was the disposition upon the part of the house to enforce its will and to reverse the custom that has grown so general in the past few years of yielding to the senate. It is known that this is a manifestation of the policy of Speaker Cannon and that so long as he presides over the house, that branch will insist upon what it considers its rights.

The Death Roll

The Rev. Jerome Schmitt, O. S. B.

The remains of the Rev. Father Jerome Schmitt, for years a member of the Order of St. Benedict and a professor at St. Vincent's college at Beatty, Pa., were taken to the archabbey at Beatty yesterday afternoon from Mercy hospital, where his death occurred Wednesday night after a long illness. Requiem mass will be offered over his remains in the abbey church this morning and interment will be made in the abbey cemetery. Father Jerome was born in Neuhausen, Wuertemberg, Germany, May 30, 1857. When 14 years old he came to this country. After studying at St. Vincent's college he made his final vows and in 1879 was sent to the Benedictine monastery in Belmont, N. C. In 1881 he returned to St. Vincent's and was ordained. He held the professorship of the highest Latin class at the college, taught natural history and had charge of the famous library at the arch-abbey. He was also an accomplished musician. Father Jerome was a former prior of St. Vincent's.

William F. Casey.

William F. Casey, aged 51, died yesterday morning at his home, No. 1015 Allegheny avenue, Allegheny, after a long illness. He had been engaged in the restaurant business on the North Side for some time and was formerly connected with the old Central hotel and, later, with the old Victoria hotel in this city. He was a son of the late T. D. Casey and was born in this city. Mr. Casey received his education at St. Mary's college, Emmittsburg, Md., and at the Western University of Pennsylvania. He is survived by his widow, a daughter of Perry Charles of Allegheny; four sisters, Mrs. F. D. Murto, Mrs. H. J. Carney, the Misses Dora and Frances Casey, and two brothers, James D. and Charles J. Casey, and his mother, Mrs. Margaret J. Casey. A brother of Mr. Casey died 11 weeks ago.

Mrs. Anna Marilla McDowell.

Mrs. Anna Marilla McDowell, aged 74, widow of Andrew Turner McDowell of Wilkinsburg, died yesterday morning at the family home, No. 601 North avenue, Wilkinsburg. She was a daughter of John and Martha Davidson of Irwin township, Venango county, Pa., where she was born. In 1859 she married Andrew Turner McDowell, who died in 1896. For many years the family resided in Fairview and afterward in Butler, Pa. The family moved to Wilkinsburg 11 years ago. Six children survive, R. P. McDowell, J. E. McDowell, Mary McDowell, W. S. McDowell and Mrs. S. H. Murphy, all of Wilkinsburg, and James A. McDowell of Butler, Pa. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock and interment will be made at Homewood cemetery.

Michael Nicolaus.

Michael Nicolaus, for 50 years a prominent business man of McKeesport, died suddenly in Steubenville, O., on Wednesday. The remains will be taken to the home of his son-in-law, Rufus C. Crawford, in McKeesport today. Mr. Nicolaus was born in Germany and came to this country when 13 years old. He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Emma V. De Wees, Mrs. Annie L. Stone and Mrs. Rufus C. Crawford, all residents of McKeesport. Mrs. Crawford was in California when notified of her father's death and started for her home immediately.

Mrs. Sarah McDonald.

Mrs. Sarah McDonald, aged 70, of Mills avenue, Braddock, died yesterday of pneumonia at Cecil, Pa., where she went to visit relatives about three weeks ago. She was born in Armstrong county, Pa., and many years ago came with her family to this city. About 11 years ago Mrs. McDonald went to Braddock to live. Her husband was a well-known merchant of that city. She was a member of St. Thomas' Roman Catholic church, Braddock, and is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth O'Rourke of Cecil, Pa., and seven other children.

Capt. E. S. Hoffman.

Capt. E. S. Hoffman, one of Berkeley county's most prominent citizens, is dead at his late home at Bunker Hill, W. Va., aged 65. He was a large land owner and prominent in political and business affairs. During the civil war he was captain of company D, Second Virginia infantry, Stonewall Jackson's brigade, and won distinction especially in Jackson's valley campaign. He had served in the state legislature and state senate.

Andrew Clark.

Andrew Clark, aged 51, died yesterday morning at the home of his brother-in-law, Patrick O'Bryan, No. 1 Carolina street, Fourteenth ward. He was a native of County Dublin, Ireland, came to this country in 1886 and engaged in landscape gardening. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Margaret O'Bryan Clark. He was a member of St. Agnes' Catholic church, where funeral services will be held over the remains tomorrow at 9 o'clock a. m.

M'KENNA LOSES THE JUDGESHIP

Penrose Says He Does Not Know the Pittsburgher and Another Will Be Named.

DALZELL TO SEE PRESIDENT

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 10, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., April 28.

Senator Boies Penrose is authority for the statement that the nomination of Charles F. McKenna of Pittsburgh to be United States district judge for Porto Rico, on which the senate failed to act, will be withdrawn by the president and another man will be appointed. Mr. Penrose today saw the president and received this assurance. When asked this evening if he would oppose the confirmation of Mr. McKenna should the president send in the nomination at the next session of congress, Senator Penrose said:

"I do not expect to oppose Mr. McKenna or be for him. The president will not send in the nomination at the next session, nor will he make a recess appointment of him. The president will appoint another man to the place. I do not know Mr. McKenna, nor know anything about him. I was not consulted before the nomination was sent to the senate."

Representative John Dalzell, who recommended the appointment of McKenna for the place, when seen this evening said:

"Senator Penrose told me today that both he and Senator Quay were opposed to the confirmation of Mr. McKenna for the position. I understand the president is to name another man in his place, and if that be correct, Pennsylvania will lose this judgeship. I expect to call at the White House tomorrow and talk to the president about the matter."

It is not believed that Mr. Dalzell has any hope of saving the appointment, though he made the recommendation of Mr. McKenna in response to an invitation from the president to do so. He realizes that if both Senators Quay and Penrose do not want Mr. McKenna he has no chance to be confirmed. It is usual where there is a disagreement of this kind between the representatives and the senators for the president to select a man from another state, and it is probable that he will do so in this case.

With politics in Allegheny county in the condition that they are at present, Senators Quay and Penrose are inclined to be very cautious in the matter of appointments. They do not care to give their approval to any appointee before they are fully informed of his political history and his present affiliations. In the case of Mr. McKenna, Mr. Penrose has stated that he knew nothing about him, and as the nomination was sent in but one day previous to adjournment he had no opportunity to make an inquiry.

Mr. Dalzell made the recommendation without consulting with Senator Penrose, which would also tend to complicate the situation, although Mr. Dalzell told the senator that he had no idea of ignoring him, but merely had been so busy with other matters that this had slipped his mind. However, there is little chance now of the Pittsburgh attorney getting the appointment, and it is almost certain to go to some other state.

CONGRESSMEN ARE LEAVING WASHINGTON

Western Pennsylvania Representatives Will Soon Be Home.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.] WASHINGTON, April 28.—The members of congress from Western Pennsylvania have nearly all made preparation to get away before the close of the present week. Representative Acheson left tonight for Washington, Pa. Congressman Cooper of Uniontown, has considerable belated department work to look into and may not be able to get started homeward until next week. Representative Chirus of Allegheny, is also to remain in Washington several days to settle up odds and ends of routine work before going home.

H. K. Porter of Pittsburgh, said he has not yet decided what he may do further than that he will remain at the capital for some little time. James W. Brown, representing the Twenty-second congressional district has left Washington for home. William O. Smith of Punxsutawney, will leave for home Friday night.

Senator Penrose and Representative Dalzell will be members of a party of congressmen and officials who will leave here Monday for a cruise of three weeks in the West Indies on the Dolphin. They will inspect naval stations at Guantanamo and Bahia Honda.

BIDS FOR ASPHALTING ARE ADVERTISED AGAIN

The Specifications Have Been Changed to Give Contractors a Wider Scope.

Director Bigelow of the department of public works yesterday advertised again for bids for asphalt paving. The new specifications require contractors to bid on a binder course of material and omit the requirement that bidders shall have a 5 asphalt plant inside the city limits at the time the bids are made. The readvertisement was decided upon by the director after Booth & Flinn protested the bids of contractors, one of whom was not required to bid on a binder course and three of whom did not maintain plants in the city.

Mayor Hays and the director awarded a number of contracts. James McQuaide secured the contract for building the extension of the Negley run sewer. It is to extend the sewer outflow below the new dam which the government is erecting in the Allegheny river below the Brilliant pumping works.

The contract for repairing the Point bridge was awarded to the Pittsburgh Construction Company for $82,000, $58,000 less than the estimate of the cost of repairs made by Director Bibelow's engineers. Daniel Hilf & Co. secured the contracts for a large amount of street repaving, mostly in the East End, but not including asphalt repaving.

Mayor Hays signed the ordinance amending the ordinance providing for an issue of bonds to pay judgments against the city. Among the measures signed was the garbage contract and the resolution appropriating $25,000 for the Soho bath house.

PRESIDENT DIRECTS REAPPOINTMENT OF CRUM

WASHINGTON, April 28.—President today directed the reappointment of W. D. Crum as collector of customs at Charleston, S. C. The president has received positive assurance that the senate will take up Crum's case immediately on reconvening next session, and that it will be disposed of finally. Until he is confirmed Crum cannot draw any salary, but it is said that his friends have arranged to see that he is provided with ample funds. Should he be confirmed the government, of course, will pay him the back salary.

Killed in a Runaway.

NEW YORK, April 28.—(Special.)—Dashing madly down Sedgwick avenue, the reins dragging along the ground, a horse drawing a light runabout, in which were Charles Reilly, 45 years old, of 364 East Twenty-third street, and his son Peter, 15 years old, plunged through the opening on Central bridge, where repairs are being made today, and fell 30 feet to the ground, killing Reilly almost instantly and severely injuring the boy.

Young Men to Have Mass Meeting.

A mass meeting will be held tonight in the Second Presbyterian church, Penn avenue and Seventh street, under the auspices of the Young Men's Bible Society of Allegheny County, to hear an address by the Rev. Ora Samuel Gray on "Wanted: A Woman." The Rev. E. S. Ufford, author of "Throw Out the Life-Line," will be present with his miniature life-saving station.

HATCHETS BURIED IN CLOSING HOURS

Congress Adjourns Amid the Heartiest Manfestations of Good Will.

FINAL DEBATE IN SENATE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 10, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., April 28.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the second session of the Fifty-eighth congress adjourned sine die with the heartiest manifestations of good will among its members. For several weeks past the Republicans and Democrats have spent a considerable portion of the time in a political debate that at times has reached a very sharp and acrimonious stage. They have fought over all the political battles since the foundation of the government. But today all unpleasant features were apparently forgotten, and the senators and members separated with good wishes and with the exchange of kindly sentiments.

In the house this love feast took the form of an ovation to Speaker Cannon, in which Democrats and Republicans vied with each other in an endeavor to show the speaker the greatest respect and consideration. A resolution was unanimously adopted by the house testifying to his absolute fairness, his good common sense and his genial good humor, characteristics which Mr. Cannon is admitted to possess in a remarkable degree. The speaker responded with a speech in which he showed his appreciation of his estimate of his colleagues, and this impressive scene was followed by one, immediately succeeding, flourishment, in which the members joined in singing patriotic airs and closed with a few stanzas of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

The closing hours of the session in the senate were marked by a brief but spirited political debate between Senators Gorman and Aldrich. There was no ill feeling displayed, however, and even the senators parted with expressions of good fellowship, although they were not so demonstrative as to burst into song like the representatives. A resolution was adopted thanking Senator Frye, the presiding officer, for his fairness and efficiency, to which he appropriately responded.

The president and his cabinet occupied the president's capitol office room during a part of the debate, and some of the president's advisers were among the most interested listeners to the criticisms and defense of their chief. Mrs. Roosevelt and other members of the president's family occupied seats in the gallery towards the close of the session, and they, too, found entertainment in the proceedings.

Discussing the question of presidents usurping the powers of congress, which had been raised by Mr. Gorman, Mr. Aldrich said:

"I have been intimately associated with this body for 24 years, a large part of the time with the senator from Maryland; I have served with five or six different presidents, including a Democratic president for two terms, and I have never known a president of the United States, not excepting Mr. Cleveland, who has interfered less with the legislative business of the congress, or with the action of the house or the senate, than the present incumbent of that office.

I know of no case where he has undertaken to dictate what our policy or what our legislation should be, and I cannot say that of another president within my recollection. This talk about the usurpations of the president and his attempts to control legislation or the congress is nonsense, and nobody knows it better than does the senator from Maryland.

CONGRESS WILL LEAVE SURPLUS IN TREASURY

Hemenway Says Appropriations Are $40,000,000 Below the Year's Revenues.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.] WASHINGTON, April 28.—The Republican view of appropriations made thus far by the Fifty-eighth congress were presented to the house today by Chairman Hemenway of the appropriations committee. "Good Government Housekeeping," is the caption chosen by Mr. Hemenway. After reviewing the expenditures for the next fiscal year, Mr. Hemenway concludes:

"The expenditures of our government in the aggregate are estimated by the appropriations of congress are large, and by unthinking persons are denounced as extravagant, and yet, according to the very best authority, our national government is the most economically administered of any in the civilized world." A table to substantiate this statement is given showing the per capita expenditures of the leading nations. The highest given is New Zealand, where the per capita expense is $30 38, the lowest is the United States, with a per capita showing of $7 07.

The total appropriations made by this congress aggregate, according to Mr. Hemenway, $781,574,620. Of this sum $26,801,843 was to pay deficiencies for prior fiscal years and $36,500,000 is set aside for application to the sinking fund. This leaves the total appropriations for the expenses of the government for 1905 $698,272,786. The total estimated revenues for this period are $704,472,050, or an excess over appropriations or authorized expenditures of $6,199,274. Continuing, Mr. Hemenway says:

"Experience has demonstrated that, one year with another, the actual expenditures of the government are about 5 per cent less than the appropriations made by congress, and, anticipating that the coming fiscal year will not prove an exception to this practically well established rule, it is safe to assume that the apparent surplus of revenues over expenditures will be augmented by not less than $35,000,000, thus affording a safe margin of at least $40,000,000 between revenues and expenditures with which to meet all legitimate deficiencies that may arise and that may have to be provided for next session and also offering a considerable sum to be devoted to the sinking fund.

PRESIDENT SIGNS BILLS AT CAPITOL

The River and Harbor and Panama Canal Measures Become Law.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.] WASHINGTON, April 28.—President Roosevelt arrived at the capitol today at 11:25 a. m. to attend to his official duties incident to the adjournment of congress. Nearly all the members of his cabinet had preceded him and were waiting in the president's room. He was accompanied by the whole executive force of the White House. The president affixed his signature to the last of the general supply measures—the postoffice appropriation bill. Prior to that time he had signed the sundry civil, the general deficiency and the military academy bills in addition to scores of measures of minor importance.

The president was almost in constant consultation with senators and representatives concerning measures presented to him for signature. Bills relating to the various departments were referred strictly to members of the cabinet who were present and, as usual, they passed upon them before they were signed by the president.

The last of the important bills to receive the signature of the president were the river and harbor and Panama canal measures. All of the surveys which the senate provided for in the river and harbor bill were stricken out in conference. In one of them the president had a personal interest, as it was a survey near the president's home at Oyster Bay. When he noted the fact that among the other surveys, it had been eliminated, he signed the bill and remarked, laughingly, that it was pretty evident that he had no influence with the present administration.

MANY ESKIMOS VICTIMS OF EPIDEMIC OF MEASLES

WINNIPEG, MAN., April 28.—All the Eskimos living in the Mackenzie basin, except 10 families, have been killed by the ravages of measles, says the Dawson City News. Before the epidemic there were 40 or 50 families, with a total of 150 to 200 or more persons. The great ravages of the disease and the awful results are told by Bishop Breynat, who has just reached Dawson by long and tedious journeying from the south of Mackenzie.

LOST POSITION THROUGH MISTAKE

Employer Was Hasty In Allowing Suspicion to Rest Upon Trusted Clerk.

QUICK TO MAKE AMENDS.

Pittsburgh Business Man Learns That It Is Not Wise to Jump at Conclusions—Sherlock Holmes Deductions That Didn't Work Out.

A well-known Pittsburgh business man, who thinks he is something of a Sherlock Holmes was led into a deplorable error by his system of reasoning, but fortunately discovered his mistake in time to retrieve himself and make proper amends.

This man has a faithful and ambitious clerk in his employ who has been with him for some years and had been advanced from one position to another very rapidly, always growing in the esteem and confidence of his employer, until finally he was entrusted with the handling of large sums of money.

As frequently occurs in large establishments the young man's salary was not advanced in proportion to his increased responsibility. And when, recently, the employer noticed that the young man was wearing clothes of the most elegant material and evidently made in the height of fashion by an expensive tailor, the old man began to worry because he knew the young fellow's salary wouldn't stand that sort of thing. He finally became so suspicious that the young man was told to find another position.

Explanations were demanded and the old man reluctantly admitted his suspicions. "John," he said, "you dress better than I do and I don't see how it can be done on your salary. To say the least, it shows extravagant tastes."

To the indignation and surprise of the employer the young man laughed heartily. "Why," he exclaimed, with a fresh burst of laughter, "I had this suit made to order by the Pittsburgh Tailoring Company for $15. They carry the finest line of goods in the vicinity and employ the highest priced cutters and workmen, but they do such a large business in their many stores in the large cities of the country that they make better suits for $15 to $28 each than you can get anywhere else for $50 to $60. If you don't believe it just call at their store, the Pittsburgh Tailoring Company, No. 257 Fifth avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa."

Get My Book, if Sick.

Don't Send a Penny.

Don't send a penny.

Just wait till you see what I can do.

Let me take the risk. Let me prove up first what Dr. Shoop's Restorative can do. The Restorative will gain your friendship, your indorsement, if you test it. For a whole month you can use it without the slightest risk.

I will tell you of a druggist near you who will furnish six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month on trial.

I will absolutely stand all the cost if it fails. If you say, "It did not help me," that ends it as far as cost to you is concerned. Do you understand me? I am telling it as plainly, as clearly as I can. I want you to know absolutely and without doubt that this offer is made on honor. I have the prescription that cures. My only problem is to convince you that Dr. Shoop's Restorative will cure—is an uncommon remedy. A common remedy could not stand a test like this. It would bankrupt the individual making the offer. And I am succeeding everywhere and here is the secret of my success. I found invariably that where there was a weakness, the inside nerves were weak. Where there was a lack of vitality, the vital nerves lacked power. Where weak organs were found, I always found weak nerves. Not the nerves commonly thought of, but the vital organs' nerves. The inside—the invisible nerves.

This was a revelation. Then my real success began. Then I combined ingredients that would strengthen, that would vitalize these nerves. That prescription I called a restorative. It is known the world over now as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Thousands are accepting my offer and only one in each forty writes me that my remedy failed. Just think of it. Thirty-nine out of forty get well and these are difficult cases, too. And the fortieth has nothing to pay. That's a record I am proud of. Now I want to stay sick when a chance like this is open. If well, you should tell others who are sick of my offer. Don't let a sick friend stay sick because he knows not of my offer. Tell him. Get my book for him. Do your duty. You may be sick yourself sometime. Sick people need help. They appreciate sympathy and die. Tell me of some sick friend. Let me cure him. Then he will show his gratitude to both of us. Your reward will be his gratitude. Send for the book now. Do not delay.

CITY CAN'T MOVE WITHOUT PAYING

Monongahela Water Company, Buttressed by Charter and Contract, Must Be Bought.

HAS WHIPHAND OVER COUNCIL

Common council will meet tonight to take up the filtration bond ordinance, and will probably pass it finally. All the efforts of the councilmen favoring the increase of the bond issue to an amount sufficient to purchase the plant of the Monongahela Water Company were defeated at the last meeting of the branch, so that the measure, when passed, will be in exactly the shape desired by the administration. Whether it is advisable to include the estimated price of the Monongahela Water Company in the filtration bond issue is a question on which many people have many minds, but it is a settled fact that the city must buy the Monongahela Water Company before city water can be introduced on the South Side.

Many persons do not understand the conditions under which the Monongahela Water Company originally got its charter. Some think the city can at any time supply water to the South Side and thus destroy the company's business, without compensation; others know the city must buy the company out before South Siders can use city water, but they think the city can make the purchase any time after giving the company a brief notice. The fact is, the company can hold on to its contract until 1906 if it so desires, and if the city wishes to purchase the works after the 21-year contract has expired it must give the company a year's notice.

Chartered by Special Legislation.

The Monongahela Water Company was formed in the days when there was no general corporation act or, if there was, every corporation preferred to be chartered by special legislative act. The act incorporating the Monongahela Water Company was passed in 1855. It authorized the company to do business for 40 years, at the end of which period the boroughs which it was to supply could acquire the works under certain conditions. The boroughs were Pittsburgh, East Birmingham and South Pittsburgh.

Section 12 of the act reads:

That when the Monongahela Water Company shall have erected their works and the same are in operation, the property thereof shall be vested in the said company and their successors and assigns, during and unto the end of 40 years, to commence from the time when said company shall first begin to distribute water to the citizens of either of said boroughs, Provided, That when the moneys and revenues received by the said Monongahela Water Company shall exceed 12 per centum net annual profit, the excess shall compose a fund for the redemption of the property owned by the said Monongahela Water Company, and if, at the expiration of the 40 years aforesaid, the amount of said fund shall be found adequate to the redemption of said water works (providing at the same time for repairs), then the said company shall be obliged to take such sum of money therefor as shall be allowed, on a fair appraisement by five disinterested persons, to be appointed by the court of common pleas of the county of Allegheny, and the property of said corporation shall then be vested in the burgess and town council of either or all of said boroughs, or the existing authorities at the time, and their successors forever, but if the said property shall not be redeemed and paid for at the expiration of said term of 40 years, then said Monongahela Water Company may and shall continue to hold the same, on the terms of this act, beyond the said term, and until the same shall be redeemed and paid for in the manner herein directed.

Supplements to Its Charter.

A supplement to the act incorporating the company was passed in April 1860, providing for the election of the company's commissioners. A second supplement, passed in May, 1861, provides that the unpaid water rents shall become a lien on property. A supplement, passed March 17, 1865, authorizes the company to increase its capital stock to $100,000 and to borrow not to exceed $50,000. An act of February 15, 1866, authorizes the company to increase its capital stock an additional $50,000 and to borrow not to exceed $50,000. An act of March 22, 1865, authorizes the company to convert the remaining unissued and not subscribed for, not exceeding $75,000, with preferred stock on which a dividend of 10 per cent must be paid before any dividend is paid on the other stock.

An act of March 27, 1867, authorizes another increase of capital stock of $200,000 and allows the company to extend its supply through the boroughs of Ormsby, St. Clair, Allentown, Mt. Washington, West Pittsburgh and Temperanceville and the townships of Lower St. Clair, Union and Chartiers. This act also provides that the company may fix the annual water rent, collectible in advance, and the amount shall rest as a lien against the property on which the water is used, until paid, and also provides for the sale of the property to collect the water rent.

Has No Sinking Fund.

It can be said authoritatively that there are no moneys in the company's sinking fund. The company has been paying from 6 to 8 per cent on a capitalization approaching $2,000,000.

Between 1850 and 1885 the city assumed the right to supply the South Side wards, and several boroughs, with water. A main was laid under the Monongahela river and down through Limerick. The company got out an injunction restraining the city from furnishing the South Side with water. While the litigation was still pending, Dexter Bruce, then a member of councils, introduced an ordinance extending by 10 years the period for which the contract still had to run. The period specified in the act of incorporation would have expired in 1896, and Mr. Bruce's ordinance fixed a period of 21 years from 1885.

Mr. Bruce was fiercely criticised at the time, as were the city councils, but Mr. Bruce contended that the city did not have the money to buy the company's works then, and as the company had consented to waive some privileges, it was only fair to extend its lease of life by 10 years. Incorporating with the ordinance was the following contract, which can be found in the city digest, under the heading, "Department of Water Supply, Public Works," The ordinance was passed on December 22, 1885, and the contract reads as follows, the numbers preceding the paragraphs being those of the digest's sections:

Contract With the City.

13. For and in consideration of the mutual covenants contained in this ordinance, and to be accepted by the Monongahela Water Company, the city of Pittsburgh hereby agrees not to make any further extension of her water pipes in the wards of the city on the south side of the Monongahela river from Twenty-fourth to the Thirty-sixth wards, both inclusive, than as now authorized by her ordinances to be extended or laid for, and during the period of 21 years from the date of this ordinance.

14. The said Monongahela Water Company shall hereafter, and for said term of years, make her assessments of all water rents in the said wards at rates in all cases not exceeding the annual rates in each class of water rents assessed by the city in the wards lying between the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers.

15. The city of Pittsburgh shall supply her mains now laid or being laid on the said South Side with water for the purpose of supplying the fire plugs along the line of said mains and for using the water on street ways, and for no other purpose whatever.

16. The Monongahela Water Company shall supply all other fire plugs now or hereafter put in her territory by the city with an ample supply of water without any charge for the same, as is now provided: Provided, however, That all fire plugs in said territory shall be put in, connected with the mains and kept in good condition by said city.

17. Said Monongahela Water Company shall, for said period of 21 years, continue to supply water for said South Side wards and the inhabitants thereof, shall make extensions of her water pipes in all cases where petitioned for, and where the extension will pay an annual revenue of 20 per cent or the cost of making said extension.

Provisions Made for Purchase.

18. At the end of said term of 21 years a board of appraisers shall be appointed in the manner now provided for in the charter of said company, and the said city shall have the right to purchase said Monongahela water works at the appraised value thereof, subject to deduction for any credits in the sinking fund of said company, or otherwise of its redemption. Provided, however, If the said city and company shall not, within six months of the exhibition of said award, agree on the terms of such purchase of said works, that then this agreement shall continue until such time as the said city shall give one year's notice to said company of her intention to purchase at said valuation, and that she proposes to pay the same in five equal annual installments, with interest from the date of the purchase and the assuming of the possession of the said works.

19. Said city shall have the right to connect her main on Carson street with the mains of said company, and having a stop gate and meter, and, in case of accident to main in the river or other cause, the city shall use the water of the company, she shall pay said company at the rate of 10 cents per 1,000 gallons for all water so used; and in case of accident to the works of said company at any time and failure of water in its mains on Carson street, the said company may, on written notice to the superintendent of the city water works, turn the water into its mains at said connection, and shall pay to the city the same rate for any water used by it during said contingency.

20. Any breach of the conditions of this ordinance and agreement shall work a dissolution and forfeiture thereof, at the option of either party thereto, by ordinance of the city or resolution of directors of said company.

Although common council will pass the filtration ordinance tonight, it is not likely that select council will be called into special session on Monday to pass it through that branch. City Clerk Edgar W. Hassler making the point that councils cannot order a special election within 90 days of their own election, and this period will not expire until May 16.

JAPAN FIRST NATION TO ADOPT HUMANE WAR RULES

Code Formulated by Hague Conference Enforced by Mikado's Army.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The advanced position taken by the Japanese in the adoption of humane rules of war is strikingly shown in a report to the state department from United States Minister Griscom at Tokyo in which he encloses a communication to himself from Baron Komura, the Japanese minister of foreign affairs. The minister shows that Japan is the first country to give full effect to the code of laws governing war laid down by The Hague conference.

He announces that there has already been put into operation by the Japanese the rule of war regulating the dispatch of letters, money orders and valuables between prisoners of war and their friends in their own country. The Japanese government also has ordered that such prisoners be supplied free with postal facilities, communication and means of receiving gifts. Also that they be not subjected to any railway charges.

The great number of newspaper correspondents dispatched to the far east, has overwhelmed the Japanese government, and Mr. Griscom today cabled the state department that further applications in behalf of correspondents for permission to accompany the Japanese forces in the field cannot be granted, as it is estimated that there are already at least 200 American and European correspondents traveling with the Japanese army.

LARGEST MORTGAGE FILED.

Pittsburgh Coal Company Gives Obligation for $25,000,000 to Union Trust Co.

WASHINGTON, PA., April 28.—(Special.)—The largest mortgage ever filed in Washington county was filed here today in the recorder's office. It amounts to $25,000,000 and is a mortgage of the Pittsburgh Coal Company of Pennsylvania to the Union Trust Company of Pittsburgh. The mortgage will also be recorded in Allegheny, Fayette and Westmoreland counties, as a portion of the property is found in those counties.

It is the largest instrument of its kind ever placed on the Washington county records and contains 116 pages of printed matter. It is a lien on the entire possessions of the Pittsburgh Coal Company of Pennsylvania, including 190,000 acres of coal, railroad properties, rolling stock, equipment, etc. The term of the mortgage is for 50 years. Of the property in Pennsylvania there are 400 pieces in Allegheny county, 600 in Washington county, 100 in Fayette county and 86 in Westmoreland county.

CONFEREES FOR HUFF.

Westmoreland Nominee Makes His Selections for the District Convention.

GREENSBURG, PA., April 28.—(Special.)—Congressman George F. Huff, Republican nominee from Westmoreland county in the Twenty-second district, has selected as his conferees David S. Atkinson of Greensburg, James Peters of Latrobe, J. W. Shaffer of Mt. Pleasant, E. T. Weir of Monessen, David E. Carle of Jeannette, George E. Moore of Arnold, Bert Brown of Derry and R. W. Smith of Vandergrift. Butler is allowed three delegates and the district convention will be held in Butler on Saturday.

According to the agreement entered into by representatives of the Westmoreland and Butler county committees, Westmoreland is to receive the nominee for three successive terms and Butler for two. Congressman Huff is now serving his first term under this agreement.

Aged Man Shoots Himself.

DISASTERS MET IN THIRD ROUND OF CHESS GAME

Zanowski and Mieses Assume Lead With Lasker and Marshall Close Seconds.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CAMBRIDGE SPRINGS, PA., April 28.—(Special.)—Impetuous play was responsible for several losses in the third round of the International Chess Masters' tournament, Barry, Fox and Napier all falling victims of the irrepressible desire to sacrifice for imaginary positional advantages. Marshall, Mieses and Dr. Lasker showed their ability to accept Grecian gifts and emerge unscathed. Napier's aim was a bit too high and he might well have been content with more conservative tactics. Janowski took a stubbornly contested point from Teichman and in that way was able to tie Mieses for first place. Lawrence succumbed to Marco's persistence, whereas Schlechter narrowly escaped disaster at the hands of Veteran Delmar. Two other games were drawn, those between Hodges and Showalter and between Pillsbury and Tschigorin. Russia's champion came near the goal but failed to score. The record at the close of the third round was:

	Won.	Lost.
Janowski	3	0
Mieses	3	0
Lasker	2½	½
Marshall	2½	½
Teichmann	2	1
Hodges	1½	1½
Marco	1½	1½
Pillsbury	1½	1½
Delmar	1	2
Fox	0	2
Napier	1	2
Schlechter	1	2
Showalter	1	2
Tschigorin	1	2
Lawrence	½	2½
Barry	0	3

The fourth round will be played tomorrow as follows: Janowski vs. Hodges; Delmar vs. Teichman; Marco vs. Schlechter; Napier vs. Lawrence; Fox vs. Lasker; Marshall vs. Mieses; Pillsbury vs. Barry, and Tschigorin vs. Showalter; the first name having the move. A special feature of the visitors to Cambridge Springs on Saturday evening will be a lecture on "Chess and How to Learn It," by Dr. Lasker, who will make use of the patented exhibition chessmen invented by Peter Toepfer of Milwaukee, Wis.

PRESBYTERIANS HONOR THE REV. DR. LESTER

Many Persons Attend Celebration of Pastorate Anniversary at West Alexander.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, PA., April 28.—At West Alexander, this county, today, the townspeople and those from the countryside vied with each other in honoring the Rev. Dr. William H. Lester, who has served them for more than a half century. The affair was a unique one and guests from many Pennsylvania towns were in attendance and some from New York, the venerable pastor's early home. Today was the 50th anniversary of Dr. Lester's arrival in the village to take up his work as pastor of the Presbyterian church. The Rev. G. E. Fisher is now pastor of the church and Dr. Lestetr is pastor emeritus.

GERMAN BAPTISTS OPPOSE RULES AS TO GARB

Western Pennsylvania Conference so Votes—To Build Church in Pittsburgh.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

JOHNSTOWN, April 28.—The German Baptists of Western Pennsylvania, in conference here today, voted overwhelmingly against the alleged arbitrary rules laid down by a committee appointed by the general conference, composed of S. S. Singer of Indiana, A. B. Barnhart of Maryland, and Samuel Sprankle of Ohio. The rules were laid down in connection with the customs and garb of their forefathers. The matter will come up at the general conference at Carthage, Mo., next week.

These delegates were chosen: Jasper Barnhouse of Uniontown, and O. H. Walker of Lilly, Somerset county, as members of the standing committee, with W. A. Gaunt of Elk Lick and Joseph Holsopple of Indiana, alternates. D. H. Walker of Lilly was re-elected a member of the mission board, and H. L. Grifity of Meyersdale chosen a member of the board, in place of William Lint, deceased. Other members of the board are: P. J. Blough of Hooversville, V. E. Meneely of Walnut Grove, and J. B. Miller of New Paris. The district meeting instructed the mission board to spend $7,000 for the erection of a church and parsonage in Pittsburgh.

President Dinkey Inspects Plants.

SHARON, PA., April 28.—(Special.)—President A. Dinkey of the Carnegie Steel Company, and J. P. Kissner, general sales agent, both of Pittsburgh, made an inspection of the Sharon and South Sharon works of the Carnegie Company today. Significance is attached to the visit of President Dinkey, in view of contemplated improvements. He declined to talk of his trip.

TAMMANY READY TO HELP PARKER

Murphy Willing to Shake Hands With Hill Before National Convention.

MEETING FOR TOMORROW

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, April 28.

Strong efforts are being made by the friends of Judge Alton B. Parker to bring about a reconciliation between Tammany hall and David B. Hill at the meeting of the Democratic state committee in Albany Saturday, so that the campaign for Judge Parker, which is to be begun immediately, may be free from the bitterness of factional strife.

It was said on good authority today that Tammany is quite ready for a reconciliation, provided that it can be brought about without humiliation. Charles F. Murphy has admitted that Hill is in control of the state organization, and all that now keeps him and Hill at arms' length, is said to be the unwillingness of either side to make the first advances.

As matters now stand Hill has not asked Murphy to call to the front of his plans, and Murphy is disposed to allow Hill to go ahead and assume all the responsibilities for the result. Judge Parker's friends maintain that the importance of the campaign from a national point of view transcends all considerations of party control in this state, and that both Hill and Murphy should recognize this fact and compromise their differences.

Matters of the utmost importance are to be settled at the meeting of the state committee Saturday. It is proposed to choose as chairman of the committee, a Democratic from the interior of the state not identified with factional politics.

William F. Sheehan has been urged by the Democratic leaders of all factions to take the chairmanship, but refuses to consider the request. There will be a preliminary gathering of a few of the Democratic leaders in Albany tomorrow night to decide upon the program for the state committee.

ALEXANDER DODDS.

PERSONALS

"My nation is very grateful to the people of the United States for the sympathy extended to us during our war with Russia," said Yoshiaka Seki of Tokyo, Japan, who, in company with Hyajira Matsuir, arrived in the city yesterday, registering at the Hotel Henry. "The war promises to be more serious than many people realize," continued Mr. Seki. "We have been victorious so far on sea and expect the same result on land. The Russians have the numbers, but we think we have the strength. Four of my brothers are military officers in the Japanese army now stationed at different places in Korea." He tells a story which occurred between his father, Yoshiomi Seki, and President Harrison, 12 years ago. His father was, at that time, governor of the Yatsumi province, and one day a United States merchant ship foundered about five miles from the coast. Governor Seki sent out several steamers to rescue the crew of the United States ship. For this act President Harrison presented Seki with a solid gold watch.

The eighth annual banquet of the Pittsburgh Dental college department of the Western University of Pennsylvania was held last evening at the Colonial hotel. Over 100 were present. Dr. Theo. Diller officiated as toastmaster, and introduced the following speakers: Dr. E. Jones, Dr. Wm. Miller, D. D. S., Dr. W. M. Fundenberg, Dr. O. L. Hertig, Dr. W. S. Clark, Dr. Charles Bratt, Lee S. Smith and Prof. Daniel Carhart, dean of the university. Tonight the commencement exercises will take place in the Allegheny Carnegie Music hall.

Francis L. Robbins, president of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, left last night for New York on a business trip.

W. A. McMasters of the Jamestown Banking Company, Jamestown, Pa., and president of the Conneaut Lake Navigation Company, the Western Pennsylvania summer resort, reached by the Bessemer road, was in the city yesterday.

The Rev. Father John Price, pastor of St. James Catholic church, West End, has gone to Atlantic City for a rest.

Pressed Steel Car Dividend Is Declared.

NEW YORK, April 28.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the directors of the Pressed Steel Car Company today the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred and 1 per cent on common was declared. The directors failed to issue the usual quarterly statement which has been given out after the dividend declarations heretofore, and it is understood that no statement other than the annual report will be issued in the future. It is officially reiterated that the dividends that are now being paid on the common stock were earned during the year 1903, during which year the amount applicable to the common dividends was equal to 13 per cent.

GIRLS GOING TO NURSE RUSSIANS

Six Young Women Who Are Luckier Than Pittsburgh Red Cross Aspirants.

ALL ARE EAGER TO SERVE

Pittsburgh trained nurses who have applied for employment as Red Cross nurses in the Russian and Japanese service are not so lucky as the party of young women who arrived in Chicago yesterday on their way to Port Arthur to act as Russian nurses. The women, according to a telegram from Chicago, are under the leadership of the countess of Bevanda. The countess is an American by birth, is a native of New Orleans and has lived in Russia several years.

The telegram further said that the six girls accompanying the countess are from New York, Boston and Pittsburgh, but inquiries at every source where the movements of nurses would be known have failed to locate any Pittsburgh girl who might be with the party.

Miss Lindley, a Pittsburgh trained nurse, who is now in the government service at Fort Bayard, in New Mexico, has applied to be sent to the front as a Red Cross nurse to Japan. She filed her application several months ago, offering to serve under the Japanese flag.

Woman Saw Service.

She is a Spanish-American war nurse and after her service with the troops in Cuba she went to Manila, where she remained three years. Miss Lindley was graduated from the Pittsburgh training school, connected with the Homeopathic hospital, 10 years ago. Since then she has had a varied experience, her cases taking her to all parts of the country, and since she entered the service of the government she has been detailed for active work both in this country and in its recent acquisitions.

As soon as her application for service with either the Russian or Japanese army was filed she was sent to Fort Bayard. Though much disappointed in not immediately seeing service in the field, she is awaiting as patiently as possible a call to go to Japan. Her duties at present are confined to the tuberculosis hospital at Fort Bayard. Miss Lindley is from Claysville, where she has a sister, the wife of Dr. J. M. McDonough, a well-known physician in Washington county.

Applications Asked For.

Several months ago application blanks were received in the different training schools connected with the Pittsburgh and Allegheny hospitals and distributed among the graduate nurses of those institutions. They were filled out by Miss Weir, but before the outbreak of hostilities between the Japanese and Russian forces, and called for volunteers to work under the Red Cross in the event of war. Only Spanish-American war nurses were acceptable to the Japanese service, but so far as known this condition was not made in connection with service in the Russian army.

Miss Weir, the head of the training school in the South Side hospital, was one of those who would like to have offered her services immediately, but her duties at the hospital prevented her undertaking this new line of work. Miss Weir was one of the Pittsburgh nurses who saw service under the American Red Cross during the Spanish-American war. She went to Manila, where she remained two years.

Beyond the request for volunteer nurses no petition has been received in Pittsburgh for aid, and the Pittsburgh branch of the Red Cross has not been asked to contribute to the relief work in the far east, and yesterday Mrs. J. L. Anderson, who has been one of the foremost leaders in whatever has been accomplished in that direction in this city, said it was not anticipated that a request of that kind would be received.

BURGESS CAN SHOOT.

Chief Justice of Millvale Carried Away First Prize.

The Eclipse Rod and Gun club of Etna held its first merchandise shoot on its grounds at West Etna yesterday afternoon. Burgess Edward Hickey of Millvale made the high score, breaking 49 out of 50 targets. He broke every target up to the forty-second, winning first prize. Burgess W. E. Johnston of Etna also entered and made a score of 48. Kinsey won second prize, with 48; Baum third prize, with a score of 47, and Fitch, with a score of 46, got fourth prize. Scores:

MAN ARRESTED FOR LARCENY POSES AS AUSTRIAN NOBLE

WILKESBARRE, April 28.—(Special.)—Joseph W. Grawal, who declared today that his real name is Count Granville de Follett, and that he is an Austrian nobleman, was convicted of larceny. He posed as a large manufacturer seeking a site for his mills, and was welcomed by the board of trade. Seven other charges are yet to be tried, and after Luzerne county is through with him he is wanted in Newark and in Trenton, N. J.

LEAGUE GAMES TODAY.

Chicago at Exposition Park.
Philadelphia at Brooklyn.
Boston at New York.
Cincinnati at St. Louis.

It was thought that with the departure of the St. Louis Cardinals there would come a change in the weather conditions, and that a ball game would be possible, as the Cardinals are looked on as rain-makers this year, taking the place of the Brooklyn team in the weather hoodoo business, but such did not prove to be the case and the "No Game" sign still adorned the front of the park.

Even had the sun made its appearance and worked hard all day it is doubtful if a game could have been played, as Exposition park was ankle-deep with mud and a game on the playing field was out of the question. There is still danger of a flood and it may be that it will be some days before a game can be played. Secretary Locke talks of having the opening all over again as it has been such a long time between games. It may be that a game can be played today, but that is extremely doubtful, though the officials have hopes that by Saturday the weather and the park will have been straightened out.

A letter was received at headquarters from President Dreyfuss yesterday and considering the condition of affairs the club owner seemed to be in a most cheerful frame of mind and is not worrying a bit over the present state of affairs. However, that is just like Dreyfuss, who can be in a most cheerful humor except on days when his beloved Pirates suffer a defeat; then he is as grouchy as a bear with a sore paw. Barney has succeeded in digging up a few dates in the schedule on which no games are scheduled, when the postponed events with the St. Louis and Cincinnati clubs can be played off, thus avoiding the necessity for double headers, all of which is very acceptable to the players, who dread double headers in the hot season.

Manager Frank Selee and his Colts got in yesterday and spent the day loafing about the Monongahela house, where the team is quartered. The Colts trained in far-off California and were in fairly good shape until the start east was made, then they ran into a few blizzards which upset all the good accomplished in the far west. The Colts have been unfortunate in having some of the strongest players, namely Kling and Chance, on the hospital list, but they have now rounded to and are ready to do business with the Pirates.

The Chicago team was the only one in the league that had the satisfaction of taking the series from the Pirates last season and Manager Selee thinks they will accomplish the same trick this year. The Colts have a few new players in the pitching line and from the work already shown they seem to be stars. Manager Selee claims that his team is stronger than last season and there is reason for this claim. The team is mainly made up of young players, with just enough old heads to steady the youngsters down. The in and outfields having had the experience of one season together, will work even better than last year, and it is to this that gives Selee his confidence.

Pessimists have it even that the infield and outfield, the Colts are fortified with a very strong pitching staff, made up of Weimer, Brown, Lundgren, Corridon, Briggs and a couple of others who can be depended on in an emergency. The pitchers named have all proved their worth in championship contests so that it is not a matter of experiment in that line, and to take a victory from that team the Pirates will have to do some going.

Manager Clarke reported yesterday that his players are now in good shape and that all the pitchers need is a little work to bring them around all right. The weather has been such that morning practice has been out of the question and while the players could not get out on the field, yet the hours have not been wasted, as there has been lots of time for conferences in the club house and the game has been discussed from start to finish.

TOO MUCH TAYLOR.

The Ex-Chicago Star Let the Reds Down With Four Hits.

ST. LOUIS, April 28.—St. Louis found Cincinnati easy in the first clash of the season between the teams this afternoon. Jack Taylor pitched superb ball for the locals and the Cincinnati down with but four hits. The St. Louis team hit Walker consistently throughout the game and scored with regularity. Attendance 2,780. HERRMANN NOW REGRETS REFUSING OTTO KRUGER

Little Player Would Be Valuable to Reds Now—Joe Bean Finally Gets Back to Jersey City.

By way of Chicago comes the news that Garry Herrmann, principal owner of the Cincinnati team, has already regretted his action in refusing to take Oom Paul Kruger who was offered the Reds a few weeks ago. During the game between the Cincinnati and Chicago teams in the Windy City on Wednesday, which was won by the Colts, Woodruff, the boy secured for utility parts on the Reds, made such a poor showing that Mr. Herrmann left the grounds before the conclusion of the game and confessed that he had made a mistake in not taking Kruger when that player was offered to him by Barney Dreyfuss.

The offer of Kruger was made at the time when the Pirates had two good utility players in Lowe and Kruger. The offer of Kruger was in compliance with a promise made by the owners of the Cincinnati team last winter that in case he could find another player to fill in as a utility man he would give the little German to the Reds and made his promise good, but his offer was refused, an act that the Cincinnati people now regret. It has also been discovered that it was a mistake to allow Bobby Lowe to slip out of the league and join the Detroit team as the former New Castle boy is not only playing a fast fielding game, but is also hitting the ball hard and timely. Either Kruger or Lowe would have proved valuable for the Cincinnati team at the present time when the regulars are laid up with injuries.

Joe Bean, the clever little infielder who was drafted last fall by the Pirates, has finally found his way back to the Jersey City team of the Eastern league, which won the pennant in that league last season. After drafting Bean the owner of the Pittsburgh team found that he could not use the player and asked the league clubs to waive claim to him so that he could be returned to the Jersey City club with, which he was more than anxious to remain as shortstop and captain. The Boston club refused to waive claim and made a demand for the player, who was turned over to that organization, but there was a hitch over the matter of salary and Bean refused to go south with that team. Manager Murray saw a chance to get his old player, who is a great favorite in Jersey City, back and has finally succeeded, partly through the efforts of President Dreyfuss.

Another Tannehill has been discovered. He is a young student at West Lafayette college, at Coshocton, Ohio, and is a cousin of the former Pirate twirler. Saturday the Lafayette team played against Scio, and Tannehill pitched Scio got only one skimpy hit. The youngster is touted as a comer.

Edgewood's Spring Schedule.

The spring schedule of the Edgewood Golf club is announced as follows: May 14, Oakmont Country club at Edgewood; May 21, Allegheny Country club at Edgewood; May 30, Decoration day, 36 holes medal play under handicaps; cup and medal offered by green committee; cup for best net score; medal for best gross score. June 8, Field club at Brushton; June 18, Edgewood Golf club at Edgewood; June 22, Pittsburgh Golf club at Edgewood; June 25, match play against bogey under handicaps for cup; July 2, medal play tournament. Preliminary round, 18 holes of medal play for Fourth of July tournament, eight members having best gross score to qualify for first cup and second eight for second cup. July 4, match play tournament 18 holes match play morning and afternoon for first and second cup.

Colored Team Will Practice.

Weather permitting, the Smoky City Colored Giants will be out in full force this afternoon for practice in preparation for Saturday and Sunday's games at Alliance with Marchand's fast colts. Although the weather has kept the Giants back in practice, the team selected to face Alliance is in fairly good shape and expects to land both of the games. The full strength of the Giants will not be shown for about a week, when the men will all be in shape and the strongest team selected. All members of the team will report at Brown's this afternoon at 1 o'clock for practice.

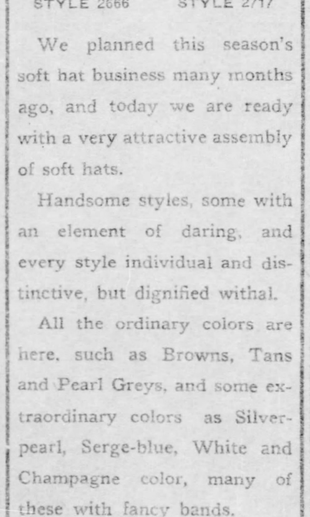
Oetting's Hats

STYLE 2687



STYLE 2666 STYLE 2717

We planned this season's soft hat business many months ago, and today we are ready with a very attractive assembly of soft hats.

Handsome styles, some with an element of daring, and every style individual and distinctive, but dignified withal.

All the ordinary colors are here, such as Browns, Tans and Pearl Greys, and some extraordinary colors as Silver-pearl, Serge-blue, White and Champagne color, many of these with fancy bands.

Black and Brown Derbies in smart styles.

It wouldn't be an Oetting ad. without—"$4 and $3 for the best and $2.25 and $1.75 for the next best hats."

TEN THOUSAND OFFERED AND REFUSED FOR JOHN MC

E. E. Smathers Is After the Fast Sewickley Trotter Who Shows Signs of Being a Star of the Turf.

A special to The Gazette from Lexington, Ky., says: "It is currently reported here that E. E. Smathers has offered J. M. McCready, Sewickley, $10,000 for the 5-year-old bay gelding John Mc, by Rex Americus, 2:11¼, dam Capeara, by Daniel Lambert. McCready asks $15,000 for the horse, and it is thought a compromise will be effected and Smathers will become the owner of the gelding within the next few days. If Smathers buys John Mc., Ed Geers will train and race him this season as he did Billy Buch for Smathers the best part of last year. John Mc. took a mark of 2:17¾ as a three-year-old in 1902. Prof. W. W. Milam handled him that year, and he also trained and drove him last season, holding his record to 2:17¼, though the gelding, then a four-year-old, showed in a race three heats in and around 2:08½.

"At the home of Dr. McCready it was stated last night that the offer of $10,000 for the young trotter had been made last fall and was refused. The horse is now in the hands of Trainer Ed Geers at Memphis being prepared for the coming season, and will be campaigned on the grand circuit.

LOCAL BOXERS WILL HAVE FRIENDLY BOUTS

Fine Bout Arranged for Monday Night—Jack McClelland Keeping His Hand In.

The Business Men's gymnasium will hold the first of a series of boxing entertainments by members next Monday night, when some of the best local talent will appear. Among them are Jack Bruce, the boxer who lowered Kid Tyler's colors; Joe Alton, the local favorite, who is conceded to be the best 118-pounder in this city; Paul Moore, who will go on with any 123-pound man that can be secured, and the Fitzroy brothers, who, although only 5 and 6 years old, can show older boxers how to handle the gloves. Young Miller of the South Side will meet Charles Morrison, a late arrival from England, who claims to have fought Ben Jordan on the other side. Besides this, many of the singers and vaudeville stars will appear. The show will be for members and their friends.

Just to show he is still in the game, Jack McClelland stopped off at Columbus, O., last Wednesday night and boxed Jimmy Murray 6 rounds at a smoker given by the Eagles. Jack had Murray all but out in the seventh round, and the bout was stopped. The Pittsburgher received $200 for the exhibition, and then he went on his way to St. Louis, where he will meet some good man to be selected by the West End club.

Billy Devine, whom Pittsburghers will remember coming here from Philadelphia last summer and fighting Mull Bowser, such a good fight at Natrona, will be here again in a few days. He will fight Owen Ziegler, Matty Matthews or Philadelphia Tommy Ryan at South Sharon. Devine has beaten Harry Foley, the boxer who came here with Eddie Hanlon, Matty Matthews and about a dozen others lately.

JOHN L.'S BENEFIT.

Great Reception to Old Gladiators Fitz and Sharkey in Warm Bout.

BOSTON, MASS., April 28.—(Special.)—Four thousand people rose and cheered themselves hoarse this afternoon when John L. Sullivan, "The greatest fighter of 'em all," Boston's favorite son, entered the Boston theater during the progress of his monster benefit.

From pit to dome the great theater was one solid mass of humanity. Every seat in the house was taken and at least 1,000 more stood in the back of the house and on the stage.

Among those who boxed were Ike Weir, Jack Havlin, Tommy Danforth, Danny Sullivan and Patron Billy Frazier. Charlie Mitchell and Jack McAuliff were introduced by Tom Sharkey. All made neat addresses complimentary to the beneficiary, but it was Bob Fitzsimmons who got the glad hand. His reception was worthy a president of the United States. Three round bouts between Fitzsimmons and Sharkey was epoch-making. The first round went beyond the three minute limit, no interested was Referee Sheehan. In the second Sharkey scored a knockdown and took eight of the count, but by the time the bell rang the sailor was on his back.

The third round "Tom" was groggy, but he sent Fitz down again. Then both went down together. At the close of the round an exchange of wallops sent both men to the floor and they were counted out. Old timers consider this a phenomenon in pugilistic history.

SUSTAINS BROOKLYN CLAIM.

New York Americans Cannot Play Sunday Games at Ridgewood.

CINCINNATI, April 28.—The National baseball commission today sustained the Brooklyn protest against the New York American club playing Sunday games at Ridgewood.

P. J. Donovan's name was ordered stricken from the reservation list of the St. Louis National league club. The claims of Charles C. Carr of Detroit against the Providence club was referred to the National association.

WATERSIDE WON SUFFOLK STAKE

Race Was Run in a Sea of Mud and Proved to Be Easy Mark for the Favorites.

RIGHT ROYAL A GOOD THING

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 28.—Three thousand persons journeyed to Jamaica in the rain today to witness the running off of a poor card, the feature of which was the Suffolk stakes. The track was a sea of mud. Only one favorite won. Waterside, at 5 to 1, captured the Suffolk by six lengths, after having allowed Nevada and Gotowin to make the running to the stretch. Right Royal, a 4-to-4 favorite, was beaten a head by the 15-to-1 shot, R. L. Johnston, in the second race. George Chandler claimed Lord Melbourne out of the third race for $1,480. Summaries:

First race, selling, 6 furlongs—For Luck, 90, A. Brennan, 4 to 1 and 8 to 5, won; Clear the Arena, 87, Storm, 15 to 1 and 6 to 1, second; Singing Master, 94, Hildebrand, 5 to 1 and 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:18 2-5. The Bowery, Esperance, Wreath of Ivy, Steelmaker, Blue Pennant, Eber Leaf, Dr. Loder, Half Holiday and Aqua also ran. Florinal finished third, but was disqualified.

Second race, 4½ furlongs—R. L. Johnston, 105, Phillips, 15 to 1 and 7 to 5, won; Right Royal, 110, O'Neil, 4 to 5 and out, second; Cloverhampton, 102, Hildebrand, 5 to 1 and 4 to 5, third. Time, :57. Raiment and Morris Kaliski also ran.

Third race, selling, mile and 70 yards—Midshipman, 88, Crimmins, 5 to 2 and even, won; Lord Melbourne, 105, Cormack, 5 to 1 and 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:52 1-5. Caviar, Turnpike, Sarah Maxim, Satire, Hackensack, Early Eve, Northern Light and Aluck also ran. Locket left at the post.

Fourth race, the Suffolk states, selling, 4½ furlongs—Waterside, 107, O'Neil, 5 to 1 and 2 to 1, won; Nevada, 94, Crimmins, 100 to 1 and 40 to 1, second; Matador, 104, Martin, 16 to 5 and 6 to 6, third. Time, :56 3-5. Only One, Austin Allen, Gotowin, Jungle Imp, Babillisa and Veladay also ran.

Fifth race, handicap, mile and 70 yards—Sais, 108, Hildebrand, 4 to 1 and 8 to 5, won; Florham Queen, 110, Redfern, 5 to 1 and 2 to 1, second; Himself, 108, Creamer, 5 to 1 and 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:50 1-5. Honolulu, Sheriff Bell, Scotch Thistle and Knobhampton also ran. Masterman left at the post.

Sixth race, 6 furlongs—Mart Mullen, 115, Fuller, 15 to 5 and 6 to 5, won; High Heels, 103, Cormack, 50 to 1 and 12 to 1, second; Dancing Belle, 103, Michaels, 25 to 1 and 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:19. The Cub, Flag Officer, Prince of Pleasure, Stump Apsila, Roundbrook, Panther, Cannon Ball, Lem Reed, Ikki, Trossachs, Tom O'Day, Rapport and Woodheart also ran.

GENEVA AND WASH-JEFF ARE ON FRIENDLY TERMS

Football Squabble Has Been Forgotten and Teams Will Meet on Track and Field.

The threatened clash between the Wash.-Jeff. and Geneva college athletic associations as a result of that football game last fall, which came so close to winding up in a riot, seems to have been patched up and the colleges have once more resumed their friendly relations. This will be good news to a number of the local Wash.-Jeff. alumni, who feared that the breach was too wide to be bridged over.

Early this week a story was published that the Geneva College Athletic association was arranging an inter-collegiate field and track meet, to be held at Beaver Falls, and that the Wash.-Jeff. athletes would not be asked to take part. It was also stated that Wash.-Jeff. was also arranging a meet and that the Geneva athletes were to be excluded. All this seems to have been a mistake, as is explained by Phillip E. Hamilton, manager of the Geneva track team, who writes The Gazette as follows:

"My attention has been called to a published article regarding Geneva and Washington and Jefferson, and, feeling that it places Geneva in a bad light before the public, would request that you announce such statements as being incorrect. The writer evidently was misinformed concerning the existing athletic relations between Washington and Jefferson and Geneva. Washington and Jefferson received an invitation to participate in the inter-collegiate meet to be held at Beaver Falls on the 19th of May, and although it has not accepted as yet, will probably send a team. Geneva has received and accepted an invitation to the meet at Washington on the 28th of May.

"As regard to the football game last fall, I would say that all matters and difficulties relating to it were satisfactorily settled long ago. That this is true is evinced by the fact that Geneva and Washington and Jefferson will meet in a championship struggle on next fall's gridiron.

"I trust this explanation will set things straight and place before the public the true relations existing between Washington and Jefferson and Geneva."

Elks Team for Greensburg.

GREENSBURG, PA., April 28.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the Greensburg Elks last night it was decided to put a team in the field, but it was deemed inadvisable to join the league proposed for Western Pennsylvania. An effort will be made to schedule games with as many of the league teams as possible. James G. Gay was appointer a delegate to the next league meeting.

Local Players for the South.

George Hays, formerly shortstop of Clarion, and George Oshenbaugh, last year of Greenville, have signed with the Macon (Ga.) team, and will leave for there in a few days. Both are well-known players around this section.

Sharon's Players Reporting.

SHARON, PA., April 28.—(Special.)—Dennis Ryan, third baseman, of Renova, and Pitcher Seifert of Erie reported here today, to play on the local team. George Reed, formerly manager of the Spokane, Washington, team, will play second base.

SOCIETY

A VERY unique entertainment is being planned for Friday, June 10. It will be given for the benefit of the Children's hospital and be conducted at the home of Miss Martha H. Childs in South Linden avenue, Point Breeze. The entertainment will consist of a garden party, with booths and tables for the sale of cakes and candies. In addition to these the managers are preparing some surprises for their guests, and the affair may be anticipated as one of the novel entertainments held in Pittsburgh for several years. The managers have called to their support people in different parts of the country who have cordially responded.

The entertainment will be given for the new building fund for the erection of an addition to the Children's hospital, which was decided upon a few days ago.

It will be conducted under the management of the members of the visiting committee of the hospital, which includes Mrs. William J. Holland, Mrs. Curtis C. Beggs, Mrs. W. Reeves Wood, Mrs. Edmund Morewood Ferguson, Mrs. George W. Guthrie, Mrs. Hugh Allen, Mrs. R. M. Clarke, Mrs. Herbert DuPuy, Mrs. Horace Dravo, Mrs. A. M. Imbrie, Mrs. Francis J. Lobingyne, Miss Bessie D. Johnston, Miss Sara H. Willkely, Miss Mary Irwin Laughlin, Mrs. James R. MacFarlane, Mrs. Harry Palmer Pears, Mrs. Lewis Plumer, Mrs. Benjamin Page, Mrs. James M. Schoonmaker, Mrs. William H. Sylviter, Miss Alice Sellers, Mrs. J. Ramsey Speer, Miss Mary Speer, Mrs. Frank M. Schwertz, Mrs. Charles Wharton and Mrs. J. J. Vandegrift.

Whitesell-Horton.

A home wedding in Sewickley took place last evening at the residence of Mrs. Anna M. Whitesell, in Broad street, when the marriage of her daughter, Miss Amelia Eleanor Whitesell, and James Francis Horton of New York was solemnized. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by the Rev. William D. Campbell, pastor of the Sewickley Presbyterian church, assisted by the Rev. D. Preston Brooks of Leechburg, Pa., a cousin of the bride. The bride was given away by her brother, William W. Whitesell, and her sole attendant was her sister, Miss Anna M. Whitesell. The bridegroom had as best man Frank Killen of Pasadena, Cal., and the page was Master Frank Whitesell, a nephew of the bride.

The bride was handsomely gowned in white satin, with elaborate trimmings of duchesse lace. She wore a bridal veil and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The decorations were all in pink and white.

A special train conveyed the Pittsburgh guests from the wedding. Mr. Horton is a son of the late John Horton and a grandson of Judge Horton of New York. He is a graduate of the Harvard law school and a well-known New York attorney. After an eastern trip Mr. and Mrs. Horton will live in Atlanta, Ga., where Mr. Horton has business interests.

Mrs. McCoy Is Hostess at Luncheon.

A pretty informal affair yesterday was the luncheon at which Mrs. George Layng McCoy was hostess at her home in Baum street, East End, at 1:30 o'clock. Covers were laid for 12, the guests including Mrs. James McCutcheon, Mrs. William Blackstock Rodgers, Mrs. Wendman A. Coyle, Mrs. Alexander R. Peacock and her two house guests, Mrs. Hedley V. Richardson of Detroit and Mrs. George Heffran of Grand Rapids; Mrs. Daniel M. Clemson, Mrs. Helen Rock Carroll, Mrs. David Lindsay Gillespie, Mrs. James Telford Hamilton and Mrs. Emmett Queen. Mr. Richardson and Mr. Heffran, who also came to Pittsburgh to attend the wedding of Miss Wilson and Franklin P. Bell on Tuesday, left for their homes last evening and will be followed by Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. Heffran in a few days.

Musicale in Bellevue.

The Bellevue Christian church was well filled last evening, when an excellent musicale was given for the benefit of the music fund of the church. The program was presented by the church quartet: Mrs. Robert G. Gayton, soprano; Mrs. D. A. A. Hoffman, contralto; Edwin C. Lykins, tenor; Robert G. Gayton, bass, assisted by Miss Jessie K. Yuill, soprano of the Bellefield Presbyterian church; John A. Hibbard, bass, director of the choir of St. Peter's Episcopal church, Oakland; Ernest P. Jones of the Third Presbyterial church, Pittsburgh, pianist; Hollis Davinney, violinist; Miss Marie Mushrush, reader. The accompaniments were played by Miss Fansy Graham, Mrs. E. J. Bingham and Mr. Jones.

MacDonald-Reizenstein.

A pretty Bellevue wedding last evening was that of Miss Minnie MacDonald and Mr. Samuel Reizenstein at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. G. P. Helt. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George Shaffer, pastor of the Bellevue Methodist Protestant church. The bride, who is a daughter of Mrs. A. MacDonald, was unaccompanied. She was gowned in white batiste and lace. The house was tastefully decorated with palms. After the ceremony, which was witnessed by immediate relatives only, a dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Reizenstein will live in Fourth avenue, Bellevue. Mr. Reizenstein is a well-known merchant in Allegheny.

May Party in Oakmont.

The members of the Ladies' Aid society of the Oakmont Presbyterian church held a meeting yesterday morning to complete arrangements for a May party on May 19. Mrs. Edith C. Glass is president of the society and the chairmen appointed are as follows: Dining room, Mrs. J. Melanthon Hamilton; table No. 1, Mrs. C. C. Arensberg; table No. 2, Mrs. Warner; table No. 3, Mrs. John Stroud; table No. 4, Mrs. Mary Collier; cake table, Mrs. Thomas P. Henderson; coffee table, Mrs. William Quay; candy, Mrs. William D. Hill; ice cream, Mrs. James B. Neely.

Pittsburgh Girl at Chester Wedding.

Miss Cora Wells of Shady avenue, East End, will leave May 18 for Chester, Pa., to attend the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Johnston, a daughter of M. Johnston, a well-known attorney of Chester, and Claude Hooven of Dayton, O., which is set for June 1. The bride-elect has visited Miss Wells at her home in Shady avenue several times and has made many friends during her visits here. She left Pittsburgh about a month ago after staying with Miss Wells for several weeks. Miss Wells will share the honors with Miss Johnston at the numerous social affairs which are to precede the wedding.

Wedding Guests Still in Town.

Miss Louise Scull of Somerset is the house guest of her brother, Edward Blaine Scull of Castleman street, Shadyside. Miss Scull came to Pittsburgh to attend the wedding of Miss Dunbar and Alexander M. Speer, Jr., on Tuesday. Miss Margaret Barry of Atlanta, Ga., will remain a month or six weeks with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James Speer Kuhn, before returning south and Miss Daisy Strong of Hartford, Conn., will be the guest of Miss Fannie Dunbar for a few days longer.

Negley-McKechnie.

Miss Anna Belle Jones Negley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Negley, and John McKechnie were married last evening at the home of the bride's parents, in Tacoma street, Brushton. The Rev. William R. McCullough, pastor of the Hamilton avenue United Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony at 7:30 o'clock. The only attendant was a sister of the bridegroom, Miss Marion McKechnie. Mr. and Mrs. McKechnie discussed with the usual wedding trip.

Bennett-Brobst.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett have issued cards announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Myrtle Irene Bennett, and Samuel Brenand Brobst of Pittsburgh, yesterday at their home in Steelton, Pa. The marriage was solemnized at noon, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. William B. Cooke, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Steelton. After an extended wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Brobst will make their home in New York city.

Children's Birthday Party.

Mrs. M. J. Alexander of St. James street, Shadyside, gave a children's party on Tuesday evening in honor of her little daughter, Miss Ruth Alexander, who that day celebrated her eleventh birthday anniversary. There were all sorts of contests. Miss Theodosia Wells, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Wells, jr., taking the first prize.

Pittsburghers at the Seashore.

Mrs. S. Jarvis Adams, who went to Washington to attend the conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution, spent several days in New York and is now in Atlantic City. She will not return to her home in Fifth avenue for a week. Mrs. Samuel McKee is with Mrs. Adams at the seashore.

Mr. and Mrs. Cole Entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. Cole of Sewickley entertained at bridge whist at their home last evening. Mr. and Mrs. Cole will close their home early in May when Mrs. Cole will go west on an extended visit and Mr. Cole will go to Dresden, Saxony, to visit his brother, Charles L. Cole, American consul general at that place.

Notes of Society.

The Jefferson Stock company appeared in vaudeville last evening in the Sixth ward school hall, Allegheny.

Mrs. J. Walter Hay of North Avenue, Allegheny, has as her house guest her mother, Mrs. Samuel Walker of Elizabeth.

A pleasant affair yesterday at the home of Mrs. R. B. Boobyer in Sewickley was a surprise for Mrs. Boobyer, in honor of the hostess' fiftieth birthday.

The twenty-second annual subscription dance of pupils of Brann's school of dancing will be held on Saturday evening, May 6. The pupils in the juvenile class will hold their twenty-second annual carnival on Wednesday afternoon, May 27.

Mrs. Abram Garrison Holmes of Fifth avenue and her niece, Miss Gaugleer Miss Gertrude Holmes, returned last Saturday from Albany, N. Y., where little Miss Holmes was one of the flower girls at the wedding of Miss Lillian Wadsworth and William Groff of Philadelphia.

AMONG THE CLUBS

Nurses Give Benefit Euchre.

Twenty-two tables were in use last evening at the benefit euchre given by the Nurses' Alumnae association of the West Penn hospital. The affair was held in Braun's auditorium in South Highland avenue. Eighteen tables were placed in the euchre rooms and four in the gallery. The dancing in the ballroom was general, and at 11 o'clock supper was served downstairs in the supper room. The patronesses for the affair were Mrs. Percival J. Eaton, Mrs. Lawrence Litchfield, Mrs. L. W. Swope, Mrs. M. C. Cameron, Mrs. E. B. Hayworth, Mrs. W. Armstrong, Mrs. T. H. McFarland, Mrs. C. O. Anderson, Mrs. J. Hartley Anderson, Mrs. C. H. Ingram, Mrs. George McNish, Mrs. P. K. Bechtel and Mrs. J. D. Milligan.

Open With Patriotic Demonstration.

A proposition to open the summer playgrounds and the recreation park on July 4 with a flag raising and a patriotic demonstration was greeted with enthusiasm yesterday at the regular meeting of the joint committee of Women's clubs. The assembly room of the Seventeenth Century club was well filled with interested women. Mrs. John Cowley reported four school grounds secured in Allegheny and applications are made for two others. Six school grounds in Pittsburgh have been secured already and others provided for. One school has been obtained on the South Side and the committee expects to have two others before the time to open early in July. Bedford basin or Washington park, as it will be called, will be ready for use by the Fourth of July, and the Allegheny children will have a recreation park in Marshall avenue. Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon having presented a lot for that purpose. The managers of the Allegheny Day nursery, which is now in its new quarters in Perrysville avenue, have offered to take some of the children from the playgrounds on the North Side who are in need of fresh air.

Two committees were appointed yesterday. The flower box committee is composed of Mrs. Henry D. Barton, Mrs. C. E. Tyler, Miss Laura Reineman, Miss Anna Gray and Mrs. Robert D. Coard.

The committee in charge of Washington park will include Mrs. Mattie Patterson, Mrs. George Moore, Mrs. Zant Miller, Mrs. H. B. Ingersoll, Mrs. George Hubbard and Mrs. H. B. Lineweaver.

Club Elected Officers.

The Thursday Afternoon club of Wilkinsburg held its annual business meeting yesterday and elected officers for the coming year. Miss Jean Hunter was elected president; Mrs. Louis A. Brown, first vice president; Miss Josepha Hamilton, second vice president; Mrs. W. S. Wilson, secretary, and Miss Emma Boyd McCracken, was re-elected treasurer. The program committee gave its report and the program for the next year is ready for the printers. It will consist of current events combined with "Our Island Possessions." Mrs. Franklin M. Gordan was elected the club's delegate to the general federation meeting in St. Louis.

French Entertainment.

The Alliance Francaise gave an enjoyable entertainment last evening in the Victory hall in Dithridge street, Bellefield. It consisted of songs by Mlle. Florence de Vallere, monologues by Madame Jeanne Harris, with piano solos by Mlle. Evelyn Mary Lippa.

Matthu-Harris Wedding.

MARTINSBURG, W. VA., April 28.—(Special.)—The marriage of Miss Katherine Elizabeth Matthu, daughter of the late Charles P. Matthu, to Rev. Carlton D. Harris, one of the most popular ministers of the Baltimore conference of the Methodist Episcopal church south, took place in Christ Reform church in this city last evening. Motherly Advice

Every mother possesses information of vital value to her young daughter. That daughter is a precious legacy, and the responsibility for her future is largely in the hands of the mother. The mysterious change that develops the thoughtless girl into the thoughtful woman should find the mother on the watch day and night. As she cares for the physical well-being of her daughter, so will the woman be, and her children also.

When a young girl's thoughts become sluggish, when she experiences headaches, dizziness, faintness, and exhibits an abnormal disposition to sleep, pains in the back and lower limbs, eyes dim, desire for solitude, and a dislike for the society of other girls, when she is a mystery to herself and friends, then the mother should go to her aid promptly. At such a time aid nature a little and prepare the young system for the coming change by using

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Case of a Young Girl, of Interest to Every Mother and Daughter in the Land.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to write you these few lines thanking you for what you have done for me. I was in a terrible condition, could not eat or sleep, had no strength, felt tired all the time. I had such a bad color that my mother was very much worried about me. Also suffered with headache, backache, pains all over. Menstruation was very irregular and scanty, and had such bearing-down pains. I have taken both the Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and now I am a well girl. I cannot be grateful enough for what Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies have done for me. I would advise all who suffer as I did to write to you for advice.—MISS KATIE C. CONNOR, 102 S. Franklin St., Wilmington, Del."

A medicine that has restored so many women to health and can produce proof of the fact must be regarded with respect. This is the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which cannot be equalled by any other medicine the world has ever produced.

It is well to remember these facts when some druggist asks you to buy something which he says is "just as good." That is impossible, as no other medicine has such a record of cures as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; so do not experiment with untried medicines, but insist upon the one you know is best.

SPECIAL ADVICE TO YOUNG WOMEN FREE.
From a vast experience in treating female ills, extending over 20 years, Mrs. Pinkham has gained a knowledge which is of untold value to every ailing young woman. Her advice never fails to help. If you need such help write her. Address, Lynn, Mass.

ALL PENALIZED DEALERS HELD UP

No License Is Granted Until the Period of Punishment Has Passed.

BREWERS TO SHUT UP SHOP

After a general meeting of the attorneys and the officials of the brewing companies affected by the court's decision refusing to lift the suspensions imposed as penalties, it was announced that the companies would take no further action in the matter and would shut down their plants and works as ordered.

One of the attorneys stated that the companies might apply for a state license and get it, as they had not been refused, but if they did so they might be refused before the state license was granted.

"The general public," he said, "does not understand the status of this license court penalty. Every man, woman or corporation who was penalized during the session of the last license court is in a peculiar position because the license of no other has been granted nor refused. All are simply held under advisement, and no dealer who has been penalized can say his license is granted. The court does not grant the license and then deduct the number of days given as penalty. It simply holds the cases under advisement during the period the suspension operates, and when that time is up grants the license from that date.

"Therefore over 600 are still without license, and should the court's order be ignored in any sense whatever, they may find they are refused this year. The brewers were surprised themselves when they learned that an unfavorable move at this stage might bring down upon them the further displeasure of the court, and put them out of business for a whole year. They were advised by their attorneys to go slow and use no further endeavors to keep open. Of course, they did not intend to do otherwise than obey the court's mandate, if no legal and proper move could be made, but they thought we might do something. We can't, and that settles it, as far as I now know."

"Every fair and proper effort has been made to get the court to recede from its position with reference to the large employers of labor, but the petitions have been refused and nothing remains but to shut up shop and get out of business for the required number of days. That is what will be done, as the brewers are law abiding and will take their medicine no matter how unpleasant it may be."

John P. Ober concurred in this decision. He said the Pittsburgh Brewing Company would close up and keep closed until the court granted the proper papers. This will not be done until the period of penalty is up, or about May 15.

Clarence Burleigh was called into the conference yesterday afternoon to see if he could devise any ways or means to save the day, but he went over the law and advised as the other attorneys. He would say nothing as to the action taken at the afternoon conference further than that the brewers intended to shut down every plant and close up the offices.

If the courts had granted the brewing companies the right to apply for a state license during the period of suspension, both state and local licenses would have been the companies $25,000. The brewers were anxious to get the state licenses during their period of suspension, and say the combined cost of both licenses would not have been as great as the loss of trade during suspension.

Commencing today, agents for breweries outside the county will make preparations to ship beer into the county during the first half of May, in order to avert a threatened beer famine.

OFFICERS WERE ELECTED.

Young People's Christian Union of the Allegheny Presbytery Meets.

The spring convention of the Young People's Christian union of the Allegheny presbytery was held yesterday in the Emsworth United Presbyterian church. Afternoon and evening sessions were held and the convention was well attended. After the afternoon session the delegates went into business session. The report of the corresponding secretary showed a large increase in the membership. It was voted to give $200 toward furthering missionary work among the Polish people of the district.

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, W. G. Johnston, Emsworth; first vice president, Charles F. Read, Allegheny; second vice president, Miss Nellie Fulton, Trentham; secretary, Miss Mabel Henderson, Allegheny; treasurer, William Glover, Allegheny; tithe secretary Thomas McCalmon, Allegheny; corresponding secretary, J. M. Hutchison, DeHaven, Pa.; presbyterial secretary, Miss A. Dunn, Aspinwall. Arnold Douglass was elected delegate to the national convention.

Mr. Ingersoll's Goodby.

This afternoon and tonight will witness Mr. Ingersoll's formal leave taking of his host of friends in the two cities. Mr. Ingersoll has filled the position of leading man at the Grand for the last four seasons, and his farewell, after such a long and pleasant engagement, is a matter of considerable regret to his fellowing of admirers. The officers of the Duquesne Greys, Eighteenth regiment of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, will attend the theater in a body in full dress uniform, in compliment to Mr. Ingersoll. Tomorrow afternoon and night the entire company will be heard in farewell speeches.

Publisher's Aid for Advertiser.

Ten or 15 years ago the advertiser felt when he paid his bill that he was throwing money into a hole; the publisher felt that somehow he was getting something for nothing, but later advertisers have come to see it is a question of cause and effect—an investment, not a speculation. The list of successes in advertising is a long one and yet we are only on the edge of the business. Manufacturers who have heretofore left all the advertising for the retailer are learning that they must make their goods known to the consumer, create a specific demand for their particular line, and thus reach the person who is the final buyer of the goods. Advertising as we know it today is the product of the complex conditions in which we live. A man must find some way to make his business known, and there is no lack of channels to choose from. The one factor that has made the advertising business possible is the army of publishers who have spared no expense to make the newspaper the standard for the world. These, therefore, make splendid carriers for advertising. It is not a question, as far as the publishers are concerned, of "a little more paper and ink," it is a question of large investment. The same artistic ability which has made the publication valuable is the service of the advertiser. Your audience has been brought together by the publisher. Speak to it.—J. Rowland Mix. (From an address delivered at a banquet of the Civic club of Niagara Falls, N. Y.)

Geary Called.

Mr. James Geary, the ad. man for the Pickering store, made an assertion that he sold 1,500 glass dishes at a recent Saturday night Special Sale in one hour. Mr. Charles Hope bet him a suit of clothes that no man living could sell that many articles in one hour. The wager was accepted, with this proviso, that if it is a dry day next Saturday Mr. Geary will sell that many articles in 60 minutes—the hour was fixed from 5:30 to 6:30. Any person feeling interested can stand near by and count. Mr. Geary is willing to take all bets that may be offered. This way any person wagering $2 against the $2 50 rocking chair if Geary fails to sell to 1,500 people in the 60 minutes, he loses and sends the rocking chair to the winner's house. The article he will sell next Saturday night is a fancy box, 6 cakes 24 oz. Armour's medicated per-fumed soap, usually sold for 50c, but our price at this special sale is 23c for the 6 cakes. The sale will continue all evening, from 5:30 to 9 p. m. Money back if not satisfied.

MASTER BUILDERS TO IGNORE UNION WORKMEN

Adopted Rules Governing Carpenters Which Call for Open Shops With No Restrictions.

The Master Builders' association yesterday adopted the working rules incorporated in the platform of the National Building Trades Employers' association governing the journeymen carpenters. The rules are to become effective next Monday. The present scale of the carpenters expires Saturday. The resolution and rules are as follows:

Resolved, That the following eight cardinal principles will form the basis of all dealings with our employes:

That there shall be no limitation as to the amount of work a man shall perform during his working hours.

That there shall be no restriction of the use of machinery or tools.

That there shall be no restriction of the use of any manufactured material, except prison made.

That no person shall have the right to interfere with the workmen during working hours.

That the use of apprentices shall not be prohibited.

That the foreman shall be the agent of the employer.

That all workmen are at liberty to work for whomsoever they see fit.

That all employers are at liberty to employ and discharge whomsoever they see fit.

The third rule will prevent much trouble. At present the carpenters refuse to work any material delivered from a planing mill where non-union men are working. The fourth rule prevents a business agent from entering a building while the men are at work, and practically means the union must abolish the office of business agent. The restriction placed on the number of apprentices is to be eliminated. The eighth rule is the abolition of closed shops.

According to the officials of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, there will be no general strike, but the men will be instructed to refuse to work for any firm enforcing the rules. The rules are the outcome of difficulties encountered last season. The platform of the National Building Trades Employers' association reads in part:

The unreasonable demands of organized labor made during recent years, threatening the constitutional rights guaranteed to citizens of the United States, have increased to such an extent that they have become a national evil. The association recognizes in the attitude of the chief executive of the United States a growth of public sentiment on this question which should lead to a just solution.

The present wages will be paid until December 31 of this year, when a revision in prices will be made, if necessary. All negotiations between the men and the employers are declared off. The master builders asked the workmen to sign a scale expiring December 31, but they refused. Consequently every contractor will deal with the carpenters individually.

Emmett Tollon, president of the Beaver Valley Builders' exchange, F. H. Cook and Frank Pearson attended the meeting of the master builders. They reported that the strike of the carpenters in the Beaver valley is nearing adjustment. They struck originally for 25 cents a day increase; then increased their demands to 50 cents a day, making $3 50. Some of the men have returned to work at the old price, and all are expected to give up the fight by the end of this week.

PUBLIC INTEREST LACKING IN THE STOCK MARKETS

Prices Declined Small Fractions and Closed at the Lowest — Gold Export Record Broken. Local Stocks Remain Stagnant.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Public interest is still lacking in the stock markets. In New York yesterday the sales exceeded by a few thousand shares the total for the day before, but there were times during the session when the market came to a standstill, and considerably more than half the day's business was handled during the forenoon. Prices opened firm, but the manipulation of United States Steel preferred, which seemed to have for its object the creating of a market on which to sell, checked a rising tendency, and throughout the greater part of the day the course of values was downward. Steel preferred opened at 56½, declined to 55¾, rallied to 56⅝ and closed at 56¼. The sinking fund bonds were less active and moved within narrower limits. The copper stocks were strong on the higher London quotations. Amalgamated Copper recovered its dividend with the first transaction, and Anaconda advanced from 78 to 79. The former subsequently declined to and closed at 48⅝, while Anaconda, after reacting to 77½, rallied to 79 at the close. Pressed Steel Car common opened unchanged at 26¼, declined to 25⅜ and closed at 26. There were no transactions in the preferred. The remainder of the industrial list was neglected.

The news of the day affecting railroad stocks was unfavorable and under ordinary conditions would have had a bearish effect, but it fell flat. Norfolk & Western declined a point on the issuing of a call for a special meeting of stockholders on June 17 to vote upon a proposition to authorize an issue of $35,000,000 40-year bonds at a rate of interest not exceeding 4 per cent. It is proposed that the new issue shall constitute a first lien upon extensions and branches not included in the first consolidated mortgage bonds, and upon any extensions to be acquired out of the proceeds of the bonds. It was stated that it was not the intention of the company to issue the bonds at present, it having sufficient cash for current needs, but this statement did not rob the proposition of its bearish effect.

Erie made a very unfavorable statement for the month of March, showing net earnings of only $568,674, a decrease of $669,928, but the stock declined less than 1 per cent. Ontario & Western reported a decrease in surplus earnings for March of $37,061, and that stock sold off a small fraction. Some of the roads reporting gross earnings for the third week in April made a poor showing, Missouri Pacific reporting a loss of $64,000 and Hocking Valley a loss of $40,550. The granger stocks all sold off fractionally. Gross earnings of these roads are likely to decrease, owing to the lighter movement of grain. For instance, primary receipts of wheat yesterday amounted to only 154,000 bushels, against 441,000 a year ago, and primary receipts of corn were only 168,000, against 215,000 a year ago. Announcement was made of the postponement of the Harriman suit against Northern Securities in the Jersey court until May 9, which will retain that uncertain factor in the market for two weeks longer. Northern Securities stock was firmer, advancing to 90, while Union Pacific ranged between 85¾ and 85⅝ all day. The only incident of note in the late dealings was the advance in Mexican Central from 6¼ to 7¾ on what was called strong buying. An idle rumor that Atchison was buying for control received little attention. The general market closed extremely dull and at or near the lowest level of the day.

One million gold was engaged for export on tomorrow's European steamer. This will make the total exports for the week $10,100,000, which exceeds all previous totals for a single week. It was announced from Washington that two drafts aggregating $10,000,000 and representing the amount due the republic of Panama from the United States in connection with the purchase of the canal had been drawn, completing that part of the transaction. The $40,000,000 due stockholders in the canal has been provided for, and the shipments of gold to Paris is understood to be in connection with the canal settlements. The weekly statement of the Bank of France showed an increase of $4,110,000 gold, which of course includes no portion of this week's $10,000,000 from New York. The loans of the bank increased nearly $20,000,000. The weekly statement of the Bank of England showed a decrease of $17,265,000 in loans and an increase in the percentage of reserve to liability from 46.70 last week to 49.60 per cent at the present time.

On the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday trading was dull and entirely featureless. Nearly all the active stocks closed at small net losses. A small lot of Westinghouse Electric first preferred sold at 90, a decline of $4 a share from the last previous sale. There were no dealings in bonds, and Pittsburgh Coal scrip was¼ lower at 99.

Pittsburgh Plate Glass.

At the last annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company a committee was appointed to examine the properties of the corporation and to report to stockholders whether the valuation as carried on the books of the company "are as a whole reasonable and fairly represent the true worth of the properties." This action was the outgrowth of allegations that the statements submitted to stockholders underestimated values—a unique charge to bring against corporations in these days. Messrs. Andrew W. Mellon, James L. Buchanan and George I. Whitney were appointed a committee, and their report was mailed to stockholders yesterday. The report gives a brief history of the company from the date of its organization, in 1883, to 1901, and details the changes that have since taken place at various plants. The committee reached the unanimous opinion that "the values as shown on the company's books of the various properties are as a whole reasonable and in our opinion fully represent the true and full worth of said properties."

Taken as a whole the report was evidently a disappointment to those stockholders who have expressed a belief that an enormous amount of earnings expended upon betterments do not appear in the valuation of the plants. Considering the character of the committee, however, composed of experienced bankers accustomed to figure upon actual values, rather than upon earning power under favorable conditions, it is perhaps not surprising that their report is as conservative as that of the managers of the company. Some disappointment was also expressed over the absence of details and figures in the report. On this subject the committee says:

"We have not given details and figures in making this report, which figures and details were submitted to us by the company's officers, as we have assumed hands as to so, as your committee was to pass on these values as a whole and express our opinion on same, as we have done. While in conformity with the terms of our appointment we may be proper that we should confine ourselves in our report to the estimate of the actual worth of the assets which we have made, yet it may not be altogether amiss for us to express our appreciation of the willingness with which the repairs and substitution of machinery and the new construction have been carried forward, which, while not increasing the legitimate investment, except as we have indicated, nevertheless has diminished the cost of production, and placed the company in a position to successfully meet competition."

Crucible Steel Guarantees.

In discussing Crucible Steel affairs in a Fourth avenue office yesterday afternoon the point was raised by a stockholder that under the terms of the issue of the preferred stock, the directors would not guarantee the bonds of the Clairton and other subsidiary companies, because such action would be equivalent to placing an obligation ahead of the preferred stock which would be in the nature of a mortgage or prior right in the earnings and assets, and that such guaranteeing would require the assent of preferred stockholders.

The point is not well taken at this time, although it would have held good prior to February 5, 1901. On the latter date a special meeting of stockholders was held in Jersey City, at which the following amendments to the certificate of incorporation of the company were adopted:

"Section 8. The corporation may purchase, hold, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge or otherwise dispose of shares of the capital stock of, or any bonds, securities or evidences of indebtedness created by any other corporation or corporations of New Jersey or any other state, and may exercise all the rights, powers and privileges of ownership, including the right to vote."

"Section 13. The board of directors shall have the power to make and alter the by-laws; to prescribe by by-law the number necessary to constitute the quorum of the board, which number may be less than a majority of the whole number; and to fix and alter the amount to be reserved as working capital, and accumulated profits may be reserved and invested, temporarily or permanently, in any property, real, personal or mixed."

As stated, a special meeting of stockholders in February, 1901, voted these amendments, and in August of the same year, the directors guaranteed bonds issued to build the plants which now constitute the Clairton Steel Company.

FEATURES OF THE DAY.

IN PITTSBURGH.

Bank exchanges foot up $7,855,275, a decrease of $221,000.

One of the quietest days of the year on the stock exchange.

As a rule prices closed at small net declines.

Pittsburgh Coal common sold at 15¼ and the preferred at 56⅝.

Electric first preferred sold at 90. No sales of the second preferred.

Crucible preferred declined to 35¾ and United States Steel preferred to 56¼.

IN WALL STREET.

A million more gold taken for export, making $10,100,000 for the week.

This establishes a new record for weekly exports of the metal.

Call loan rates remained easy and unchanged at 1 to 1¼ per cent.

Norfolk & Western declined on the proposed bond issue.

The general stock market closed dull and near the lowest.

Sales included 175,500 shares stock and $2,075,000 bonds.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The feeling is growing that there will be no increase in activity in the stock market, or revival of investment buying until there has been a fair-sized break in prices. The public is as apathetic as though the season were midsummer instead of early spring, and it has apparently adopted the theory that the average of prices will be lower in August and September than today. This sentiment was illustrated in the remark of a customer to his broker yesterday: "Will I be able to buy (mentioning a low stock) as cheap in August as today? If you think so, I guess I will continue to take my 2 per cent on daily balance and wait for a bargain."

With two exceptions the local stock list yesterday closed either unchanged or lower than the last previous quotation. Seven shares of Airbrake sold at 138, which was an advance of ½, and five shares Pig Fronfne preferred sold at 31, an advance of 50 cents a share.

There were no transactions in Crucible common and only 100 shares of the preferred changed hands. Traders were waiting for some official announcement regarding the Clairton deal.

There were no sales of Westinghouse Electric second preferred yesterday, and the price remained nominally unchanged. A small lot of the first preferred changed hands at 90, a decline of $4 a share from the last previous sale.

Pittsburgh Coal preferred dividend scrip was in good demand at 99 bid. Both the common and preferred were rather heavy and fractionally lower.

The only sign of life on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was when a box of cigars was opened at the expense of a newly-elected member and there was a grand rush to the secretary's desk for a "smoke."

Indications are plain that the outgo of gold will continue on a heavy scale, as supplies here are redundant and Paris is calling home her capital from all available quarters. The sterling rate at Paris sank to 25 francs 10 centimes yesterday, thus widening the margin of profit on gold shipments from New York, in spite of an easier tendency of sterling.

A Boston dispatch announced the retirement of Thomas Lawson from his firm in Boston.

It is reported that assets to the Erie voting trust amount to not much above 30 per cent and that the proposed extension is not unlikely to be abandoned.

At auction sale in New York this week 250 shares Chicago, Burlington & Quincy stock sold at 98¾. The stock fourshed 200 on the official formal transfer to the Northern Pacific and Great Northern in 1901. Of the total $110,830,100 outstanding stock of the old Burlington & Quincy railroad, $107,888,000 is held by the Great Northern and Northern Pacific companies under the joint 4 per cent collateral trust bonds, which were issued in payment for it in April, 1901, at the rate of 200 per cent, in bonds for 100 per cent stock, making the total issue of bonds $215,096,000. Thus there is only $2,251,100 minority Burlington stock outstanding, some of which is in the hands of the public, but a considerable amount of which has been picked up by the Northern Securities Company.

The National City bank of New York has made a formal offer to bear the expenses of a two weeks' trip to the St. Louis exposition for the clerk that would make the best suggestion for facilitating the work of the bank. Details of the offer were contained in the following notice: "The National City bank offers, in addition to the regular two weeks' vacation, a two weeks' trip to the world's fair at St. Louis, all expenses paid, as a prize to the clerk who will make the best suggestions for facilitating the work of the bank, for improving existing methods, or for increasing the bank's business. The suggestions are to be handed in in written form to some officer of the bank before June 1. The officers will pass on the relative merits of the suggestions offered."

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The total production of gold from the mines of the world for 410 years, or since there have been any statistics kept, according to W. P. Kendricks, in Kendricks' annual, is officially given at $10,693,236,302. The total production of gold from the mines of the United States since the discovery is given at $2,639,563,140. Of this the eastern and southern states produced $32,492,648, leaving $2,507,010,492 as the amount of gold produced west of the meridian of Denver. California and Colorado were by far the heaviest producers, and the yellow metal with Colorado several millions in the lead. In other words, this only partly explored mountainous country has produced since 1849, down to the present time, more than twice the practically one-fourth of the total product of gold of the whole world for 419 years.

Col. C. W. Bender of Santa Barbara, Mex., has purchased the half interest of William G. Gibson in the Socorro mine near Ocampo, in western Chihuahua, Mex. The mine was owned by Mr. Gibson of Washington, and James G. Sanford of Englewood, Ga.

The Model Mining Company of McCabe, Ariz., is working about 90 men in the mine and mill and the results attained are very gratifying. The new president and treasurer of the company, T. F. Hunt, of Chicago, a mining man of Chicago, expects to visit the property in a few days.

There is a report that a big strike has been made in the Evangelina Copper Company of Los Angeles, on its property in the San Jullo district, in Lower California. It is said a five-foot vein of copper has been exposed.

P. R. Harrel, president of the Steel Canon Mining, Milling & Investment Company of Florence, Col., operating in Saguache county, is superintending the erection of a concentrator for that company. The ore can be reduced from 10 tons to one, the value being $20 a ton. The company has 26,000 tons of ore mined and in sight.

Extensive placer operations are preparing within 40 miles of Butte. A large dredge is to be installed by the Gold Creek Montana Company, Limited, an English corporation, to operate on the bars of Gold creek. The company has bought about 827 acres of ground along Gold creek and has also ordered machinery for a dredge boat and lumber for building the boat.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Tin declined 2s 6d in London, with spot closing at £126 10s and futures at £125 12s 6d. The decline abroad caused a slightly easier tone in the local market, but prices were well held. Copper also was lower in London, declining 2s 6d to 45s 10s for spot and 45s 7s 6d for futures. The local market while quiet, was steady and held at recent prices. Lake is quoted at $13 37½@13 62½; electrolytic, $13 12½@13 25 and casting at $12 87½@13 12½. Lead was unchanged at $4 60@4 65 in New York, and at £12 2s 6d in London. Spelter ruled steady but quiet, locally at $5 70@5 75. It was also unchanged in London, closing at £22 7s 6d. Iron closed at 52s 3d in Glasgow and at 44s 6d in Middlesboro. Locally iron is unchanged. No. 1 foundry, northern, is quoted at $15 25@15 75; No. 2 foundry, northern, at $14 75@15 25; No. 1 foundry, southern and No. 1 foundry, southern soft, at $14 25@14 75.

ASPINWALL GETS SPLENDID TERMS

Borough Council Agrees to Offer of Pennsy in Return for Property and Rights.

TWO TWENTIETH WARD SALES

The Aspinwall borough council at its meeting Wednesday night practically agreed to the terms proposed by the Pennsylvania railroad company for the property and rights which the company have taken for its new Y. The borough receives $40,000 in cash, a frame house and lot 50x125 feet in River avenue, 300 feet of river wharfage, which the railroad bought from the Aspinwall Land Company two years ago for $30 a foot, and a private switch into the pump house in West Penn avenue, which right is valued at $3,000. The railroad company cares for the sewers and gives to the borough all the paving and sidewalk material on the streets between the railroad and the Allegheny river which will be used to improve Commercial avenue. The borough agrees to vacate all streets below the railroad except 300 feet in River avenue. The railroad improvements are already having a noticeable effect on real estates values and over 50 properties, valued at $3,500 or more each, have changed hands since January 1. Trains are now running to the Pt. Works station in 15 minutes and by August 1 it is expected that they will go to the Union station over the new bridge and Y. The borough is promised trains every 15 minutes and the best service of any Pittsburgh suburb. The improvements necessitate moving the station from West Penn avenue to a point either between the forks of the Y or near the pumping station.

Good East End Transactions.

Two Twentieth ward sales were made known yesterday, one for $18,000 and the other for $17,000. By the former deal Architect Fred C. Sauer transfers to Ida B. Brody 715 South Negley avenue, between Elmer and Elwood streets. The property consists of a large brick house on lot 40x100 feet.

The other purchase was made by the Joseph Horne Land Company, which secured from M. E. McNamara 40x120 feet in Spahr street, between Ravenna and Alder streets. On the lot to be erected a frame storage building which the company has now for business in the ward. Rumors of two deals, each of nearly $100,000, were current yesterday and it is probable that at least one of them will be announced in a few days. As far as can be learned the deals that are being made at present is the keen competition between brokers, six firms having lately been working on a deal of about $50,000.

Building Houses to Order.

A novel method of building up a neighborhood with first-class houses is being tried by a leading real estate company on property in Swissvale. The company agrees to build a house to cost not less than $4,500 to the order of a client, who is required to pay down at first only a small sum as a guarantee of good faith. If the company's plans do not suit the client he is allowed to make suggestions or substitute a building of his own, and when the house is well under way the intending buyer makes a payment of about $1,000 and pays the remainder of the sum asked for the house and lot by installments. The plan has a manifest advantage in that it insures for the neighborhood houses that will make it desirable from a real estate and home standpoint. Often when a man buys a lot promising to build a house of a certain kind within a year he is disappointed in his plans and the lot remains vacant for months or years, thus retarding the growth of the suburb.

The project of Dilworth & Wood to raze old buildings and tenements which are unsafe for occupancy, meets with the hearty approval of real estate men. In every quarter of the city there are hovels of this kind which the landlords refuse to tear down as long as they can get a big revenue from them. With the great scarcity of houses that has prevailed in Pittsburgh the last few years almost anything with a roof on has rented at a large figure. But the renting agencies are disgusted with the business as they cannot secure desirable tenants and find it very difficult to keep up the collections, besides much trouble arises from the value and desirability of surrounding properties, whereas if these buildings were down, the lots might be improved with substantial structures.

New Churches for Aspinwall.

Two congregations in Aspinwall are planning to have better houses of worship before snow flies again. The United Presbyterians are considering plans for a church to be erected at Center avenue and Third street at a cost of $25,000. At Center avenue and Fifth street the Lutheran congregation will shortly build an addition and make extensive improvements to its present building.

The Aspinwall Land Company will build four houses in Tenth street and three in Western avenue at a cost of $3,000 each. The houses will be seven room bricks and built to sell.

C. H. Bockerman has plans for three brick houses in Fifth street, Aspinwall, to cost $4,000 each. Three more similar dwellings will be built by Bockerman Brothers in Second street, Aspinwall.

In Sharpsburg George H. Moore will build five frame houses at Main and Fifteenth streets to cost $4,500 each, and Victor Berger will build four seven-room frame dwellings in Main street, near Nineteenth street, to cost $3,500 each.

The Detwiler property, bounded by Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets and Middle street and Duncan avenue, Sharpsburg, will be put on the market next month. There will be 28 lots averaging 25x100 feet, which are now being graded.

Aspinwall: The Aspinwall Land Company sold to Gustav Siler a frame house, lot 47x120 feet, in Tenth street, Aspinwall, for $3,300; to Josepa Bryan a similar property in Tenth street for the same price, to C. H. Bockerman, 50x150 feet in Fifth street, for $1,500.

Aspinwall: I. J. McBride sold to J. H. Wellesley an improved property in Fourth street, Aspinwall, for $3,500.

Sugar Is Advanced; Flour Is Reduced

New Vegetables Are Still Lower. Oranges in Good Demand. Turnips Are Now Out.

The expected advance on sugar was announced yesterday and quotations were raised 10 cents. The market is firm, with excellent demand. Conditions are said to justify an increase of at least 5 cents more. Flour prices are reduced again. Spring patent is quoted at $5 20 and $5 30 a barrel. Jobbers are at a loss to understand fully the present situation, taking the wheat market into consideration. There were no further changes in groceries yesterday. Business continues good, some dealers reporting that orders are now coming in freely from rural districts.

Old produce stock is getting cheaper and new arrivals are selling at figures considered about the average for this time of the year. New potatoes have been reduced again, 20 bags; beets, beans, lettuce and celery. Turnips and carrots are about out of the market, so are Valencia onions. Strawberries are cheaper and all arrivals are as heavy today as anticipated, they will be selling around 16 and 17 cents a quart. There is a big demand for oranges and the market is taking a decided spurt. There is little change in the egg or poultry situation.

Hay and corn are steady. Oats showed better here yesterday and quotations are advanced a half cent, owing to conditions in Chicago. Wheat closed higher in Chicago yesterday, but there is little doing locally in the wheat line.

Oil Outlook Shows Nothing Sensational Is in Sight

Developments in the lower southwest fields are of the kind that create no gossip among operators. For the most part the wells come in light and are nearly all inside the old districts that have been defined and under development for some months. The gusher territory on the east side of the Folsom district, in Harrison county, W. Va., is not faring much better than other localities. With the exception of the South Penn Oil Company's test on the S. A. Cavalier farm, which is still producing 240 barrels a day, the late wells have come in light. This company has drilled its test on the C. N. Parish farm through the Gordon and the well produced 45 barrels the first 24 hours. A shot may increase its production. In the same district No. 5 on the T. J. Parish farm has been drilled through the Gordon and the hole has filled up 200 feet with fluid. No. 7 on the C. E. Robinson farm has been drilled 15 feet into the Gordon and the well is showing but little oil.

In the Salem district, Harrison county, there is considerable work of an experimental nature drilling and starting. In the Littleton district, Wetzel county, the Hope Natural Gas Company has drilled its test on the Henry Farm into the Big Injun and has found a fair gasser. This territory is receiving a good deal of attention from the gas companies.

In Wetzel county, near the state line, bordering on Green county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the David Antel farm into the Big Injun and has developed a gas pressure.

In the Smithfield district, the South Penn Company has drilled its No. 24 on the J. B. Duhurst farm through the Big Injun and developed a very little oil. It will be given a shot, but will not make better than a small pumper. On McFarlan creek, Murphy district, Ritchie county, the Salina Oil Company's No. 7 on the Peter Gray farm is the best salt sand producer that has been found in that district for some time. The well is a natural producer, credited with 30 barrels a day.

On the Ohio side, in the Big Injun development, near Antioch, in the Trail Run district, Monroe county, two fairly good producers have been completed. The better of the two is the Carter Oil Company's second test on the Patrick Dougherty farm and is estimated to be good for 40 or 50 barrels a day. In the Jacksonburg field, the Ohio Oil Company has completed its No. 6 on the M. J. Truax farm and will have a 20 or 25-barrel producer.

Northeast of the Rinards Mills district, on Clear Fork, in the same county, the Carter Oil Company has drilled its No. 5 on the R. P. Pryor farm into the Berea grit and will not have better than a 2-barrel pumper in that formation. In the Plum Run district, Harrison county, the Niagara Oil Company has completed its No. 8 on the Amos Long farm and has a 5-barrel pumper. In the same district the Ohio Southern Oil Company has completed its No. 27 on the J. A. McDevitt farm and has the same kind of a pumper.

In the Joy district, Morgan county, the Cumberland Oil Company has completed a second test on the Robert Brown farm and has a duster in the shallow sand. In the same district, G. B. Reppert & Co. have completed No. 220 on the B. Hopkins farm and have a gasser in the salt sand.

In the Payne district, Washington county, D. L. Cameron has completed his No. 4 on the Wilson Martin farm and has in show for a 3 or 4-barrel pumper in the Keener sand.

Per Diem Charges Will Not Be Advanced for Some Time

During the fiscal year ending with June, 1905, 42 railroads paid out in per diem charges and penalties $27,308,168. The figures cover the first year's operation of the per diem system and until the system has been tried for a longer period no changes of importance will be made in the charges. Pittsburgh officials who attended the annual meeting of the American Railway association returned home yesterday bringing the information relating to the per diem changes.

A financial statement was submitted showing the total payment to be over $27,000,000, and the average amount per day for freight cars, including penalty, only 2.19 cents. It is said the longer lines are not seriously suffering under the penalty rate, as several short lines paid practically the same total amount in penalties as the longer ones. It is believed that the second year of the per diem system will show an improvement on all sides, and until the second year closes there will be no changes of importance.

The only changes recommended and adopted by the association were: "A road shall have the right to demand the return of its car after it has been 20 days consecutively on the road. If the car is held by that road more than 10 days after the date of such notice, making 30 days in all, thereafter a penalty rate of 80 cents a day in addition to the per diem rate shall be paid by such road for the further use of the car. National Municipal League Proposes to Cut Down Power of Boss.

PITTSBURGHER MAKES ADDRESS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, April 28.—The draft of a proposed municipal nominating law was today submitted to the National Municipal league when the league began its second day's session at the Northwestern University building. The draft was submitted by the committee on nomination reform.

George W. Guthrie of Pittsburgh spoke on "the right of every citizen to a free and equal share in the selection of candidates for municipal elective office." Mr. Guthrie concluded by saying:

The state, by the adoption of an official ballot, now so general, has greatly increased the ability of the "boss" or "machine" once invested with power to perpetuate it. If the state gives a place on the ballot to a political party or "boss" or a "machine," or an organization which has the right and power to select the candidates whose names shall occupy that place, evidently the state grants the "boss" or "machine," or organization, a monopoly in the use of the party name and the support of the public policy for which that name stands. Such a monopoly is absurd. It is absurd that any set of citizens should be given a copyright on any public party.

The principal paper of today's session was by Horace E. Deming and was read by Elliott Goodwin. Mr. Deming's paper, embodied the views of the committee on nomination reform as set forth in the report.

Prof. James Mavor of the University of Toronto spoke on "The Functions of the Municipality, With Special Reference to Public Services." E. A. Hempstead of Meadville, Pa., spoke on "The Use of Political Designations Upon Official Ballots In Connection With the Name of Candidates."

Charles J. Bonaparte of Baltimore, president of the league, was the last speaker at the afternoon session. Mr. Bonaparte's subject was "Partisanship In Municipal Politics," which he defined as "the activity and influence in our municipal affairs of the great national parties."

COAL ASSESSMENTS.

The Commissioners of Fayette County Settle the Rates for Three Years.

UNIONTOWN, PA., April 28.—(Special.)—The commissioners of Fayette county have settled the matter of coal assessments for the triennial period of 1904-07, and under the new schedule of rates the assessed valuation of all the property in the county will be about $55,000,000, as compared with $44,000,000 three years ago.

The rates of valuation are as follows: On the Connellsville vein of coal, $300 an acre, on the river vein $50, on the Springhill coal $150. The owner has the privilege of deducting what is mined each year or else taking the rate $275 for Connellsville and $225 for river coal without deductions. The rate fixed at the previous triennial assessment was $175 for coking coal and $125 for river coal. The figures, as returned by the assessors, range from $175 to $40 for coking coal.

POLICE STOPPED BOUT.

Kid Carter Was No Match for Philadelphia Jack O'Brien.

ST. LOUIS, April 28.—The police stopped the fight between Jack O'Brien of Philadelphia and Kid Carter of Brooklyn in the third round of a scheduled 15-round bout here tonight. Carter was completely outclassed, being practically a beaten man at the end of the first round.

He was sent to the canvas three times in the second, going to his corner very groggy. In the third round he was put down and almost out by a right to the jaw. He attempted to rise at the count of eight, but the police ordered the bout stopped.

Fights Among Geneva College Students.

BEAVER FALLS, April 28.—(Special.)—Juniors and freshmen tonight compelled sophomores who were giving a dinner to the seniors of Geneva college, to pass under a junior yoke, before they would allow the banquet to proceed. They then captured three sophomores, after a desperate fight, whom they held as hostages until the sophomores returned a captured class flag to the freshmen. A fight over the flag will likely occur today.

Fire In Iron Mine.

ISHPEMING, MICH., April 28.—Fire which broke out today in the ninth level of the Oliver Iron Mining Company's No. 16 mine is still raging and threatens heavy damage. The shaft is too full of smoke to permit the men to enter. The company has suspended operations at its East Norrie mine, at Ironwood, 400 men being affected, and at its Big Aragon mine, at Norway, has laid off one shift. Too much ore in stock is given as the cause of the curtailment.

TWO INDICTMENTS AGAINST ROTHSCHILD

Former Bank President Unable to Furnish Bail Bond of $25,000.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 28.—Two indictments for grand larceny in the first degree were found by the grand jury today against David Rothschild, former president of the Federal bank. The indictments are based on two notes, which, it is alleged, Rothschild discounted. One is for $10,000, placed in the bank as security by Isaac Frank and Thomas C. Asplund, and the other for $5,300, signed by Benjamin S. Wise. Rothschild has been unable to obtain the necessary bail bond of $25,000, and is confined in the Tombs.

The inquisition instituted for the purpose of obtaining if possible the combinations of the safes from other girls employed by the Globe company was to have been continued today before United States Commissioner Alexander, as special examiner, in the Federal court, but owing to the absence of Judge Holt, the hearing went over to Monday next.

Dauphin County Woman Killed Herself in New York Because Fortune Was Gone.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Leaving letters saying that she had once been a woman of wealth, but had lost her money and had been driven to suicide, Mrs. S. L. Keim, 32 years old, killed herself with poison today in the Vendome hotel.

In one of the letters the woman requested the coroner to notify her brothers, S. S. and J. Frank Page of Oberlin, Pa., of her death, and another short note asked that word be sent to E. O. Shaffner of 317 Broad street, Harrisburg. Very little information concerning the woman could be obtained at the hotel. It was said she had come to the place from another hotel about six months ago, and that she was believed to be an actress.

Jefferson County Man After New Yorker.

NEW YORK, April 28.—John A. Hamilton, a commission merchant, was arrested here today on a warrant issued for extradition by Gov. Pennypacker of Pennsylvania. He was arraigned in the Tombs, charged with obtaining goods under false pretenses, and the case was adjourned until tomorrow. The complainant is George W. Sykes, of the Sykes Woolen Mills Company, Reynoldsville, Pa., who claims to have lost $23,000 through Hamilton.

FIVE PASSENGERS ARE INJURED IN COLLISION

Street Car Struck by a Train at Grade Crossing in Chartiers Avenue.

By a collision at a grade crossing in Chartiers avenue, McKees Focks, at 8:15 o'clock yesterday morning, five presons were hurt and car No. 288 of the McKees Rocks and Island avenue division was almost entirely demolished. The car was struck by a freight train backing down on the Pittsburgh, Chartiers & Youghiogheny railroad. The injured are:

EDWARD PORTER, aged 28, residing at 28 East Locust street, Allegheny; contuson on side of body, injured internally and badly cut about the head; is at the McKees Rocks hospital.

MISS HETTY HUMPHREYS, aged 29, residing in Chartiers avenue, McKees Rocks; lacerated scalp and suffering from shock; taken to her home.

MISS ELLA DEVINE, aged 40, residing in Steuben street, Elliott borough; badly bruised about the body and suffering from shock; taken to her home.

H. J. GERHERT, residing in East End, Pittsburgh; head badly cut and right ear almost severed from head; taken to his home.

JOHN W. MCCORMICK, motorman, residing in West End, cut about face and head; taken to his home.

McCormick, the motorman, says he gave the signal for the conductor, Clifton Hoke, to see that the crossing was clear. Conductor Hoke claims he saw no railroad watchman at the crossing. A. C. Hugley, the railroad watchman, says he was on the spot and as two cars were trying to cross at once he could not watch both at the same time. Engineer Simon Day, in charge of the train, said that as he was backing up he left the signals to the proper officials.

PROHIBITION CONVENTION NAMED FULL TICKET

NEW CASTLE, PA., April 28.—(Special.)—The Prohibition county convention was held here today at the court house and a full county and state ticket was named, with the exception of a nominee for judge to oppose Judge W. D. Wallace, which was left in the hands of the executive committee, which will decide later. A move to indorse William E. Porter, the Democratic nominee for judge, did not materialize at the convention as many delegates were opposed to the fusion plan. Following are the nominees: Congress, J. F. Ashenhurst, editor of the New Wilmington Globe; assembly, D. M. Brown and I. L. Smith; senate, George W. Clutton; register and recorder, Frank P. Andrews; coroner, Dr. E. P. Norris, county surveyor, Miness Miller.

CROSSED THEIR SUITS.

Three Members of Company Charged With False Pretense; Another With Embezzlement.

Jacob Grafner, Theodore S. Barton and Samuel Kramer were arrested yesterday on charges of false pretense made by H. F. Prinz before Magistrate T. D. Stewart. The defendants were doing business as the Real Estate Trading Stamp Company at 432 Fourth avenue. They gave bail for a hearing. It is alleged they sold trading stamps to merchants and promised to give a lot in redemption. Prinz says he invested $1,000 in the concern and was made treasurer, when he found the company was not chartered in this state and had only about $1,500 in property.

Last night Barton made an information before Alderman E. C. Negley charging Prinz with embezzlement in selling a book of trading stamps and not turning in the proceeds.

The members of the stamp company stated last evening that the concern was not in the least embarrassed, able and ready to meet all its obligations and was operating its business as usual.

Priest Completely Exonerated.

BELLEFONTE, PA., April 28.—Rev. Father Victor Harek, who was arrested last Sunday on the charge of cruelly beating Andrew Sofka, was completely exonerated today when the case was called in habeas corpus proceedings. District Attorney Spangler announced that inasmuch as the coroner's inquest revealed that the boy died of peritonitis, the commonwealth had no case against the priest. He said the latter never should have been arrested.

Peter Forno, the well-known merchant tailor, of 94 Ohio street, Allegheny, says: "Use has proven Doan's Kidney Pills to be a surprisingly value remedy. But few people entirely escape kidney trouble, and those who let others know how to end the trouble are public benefactors. Doan's Kidney Pills are a remedy that can be relied on if taken as directed. I speak from my own experience in the matter. I had suffered to quite an extent from the imperfect action of the kidneys. My attention being called to this remedy I procured it at a drug store. The action of the kidneys was soon restored to a healthful condition and the pains vanished. A friend to whom I recommended Doan's Kindey Pills also speaks of them in the highest terms of praise."
